

SUMMER 2022

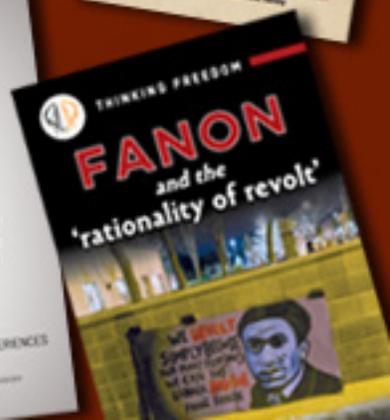

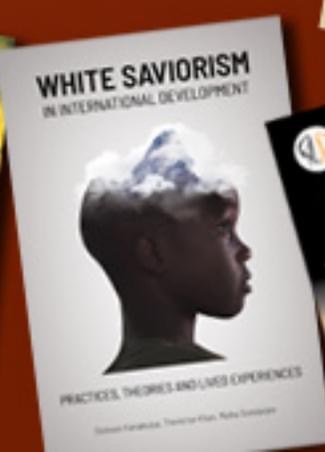

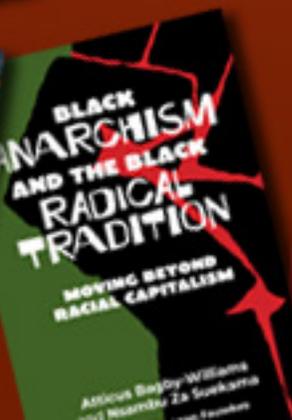

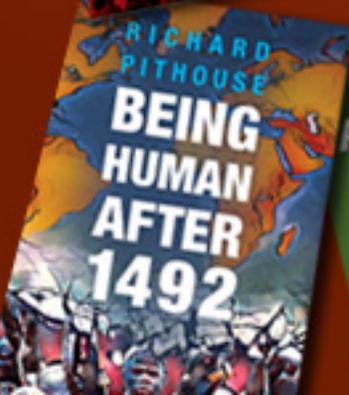

Daraja Press

Nurturing reflection, sheltering hope
& inspiring audacity

CURRENT TITLES .....	2
FORTHCOMING .....	18
ABOUT DARAJA PRESS .....	22

CURRENT TITLES

Mathare: An Urban Bastion of Anti-Oppression Struggle in Kenya

Samuel Gathanga Ndung'u

This is the untold story of Mathare Slum: of the role it played as the planning ground for the Mau Mau struggle which culminated with the fall of the British colonial empire in Kenya in December 1963. Mathare has also played a critical role in the anti-oppression struggle against the four regimes that we've had since independence and continues to do so.

ISBN 978-1-990263-42-2 • June 2022 • 60 pages • CAD$25 • <https://bit.ly/3ekZ59E>

Mutiny of Morning: a Black Appropriation of Heart of Darkness

Nikesha Breeze

In this book, Nikesha Breeze has taken pages from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, taken his words, and forced them to leave his colonized mind. She has made the words her own in poetic form. She illuminates the invisible Black voices inside, a radical, surgical, and unapologetic Black appropriation, at the same time as a careful birthing and spiritual road map. The resulting poems are sizzling purifications, violent restorations of integrity, pain, wound, bewilderment, rage, and, sometimes, luminous generosity.

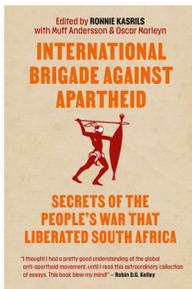

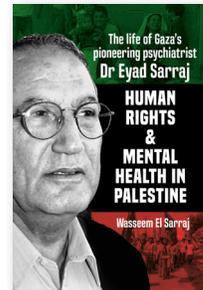

ISBN 978-1-990263-35-4 • January 2022 • 100 pages • CAD$35 • <https://bit.ly/2QfyNxE>

Human Rights and the Struggle for Justice in Palestine: The life of Gaza's Pioneering Psychiatrist, Dr Eyad Sarraj

Wasseem el Serraj

This is a biography of the life of Dr Eyad El Sarraj, Gaza's pioneering psychiatrist and founder of the Gaza Community Mental Healthcare Programme, written by his son, Wasseem El Sarraj. It is also a history of Palestine with a focus on Gaza. Eyad's life was intimately intertwined with Palestine's struggles so his choices and reactions reflected many of the major historical moments of the last 70 years.

ISBN 978-1-990263-37-8 • April 2022 • 132 pages • CAD$28

International Brigade Against Apartheid: Secrets of the People's War That Liberated South Africa

Ronnie Kasrils

We hear for the first time from the international activists who worked secretly for the ANC's armed wing, Umkhonto we Sizwe(MK), in the struggle to liberate South Africa from apartheid rule. They acted as couriers, provided safe houses in neighbouring states and within South Africa, helped infiltrate combatants across borders, and smuggled tonnes of weapons into the country in the most creative ways. Driven by a spirit of international solidarity, they were prepared to take huge risks and face great danger.

ISBN 978-1-990263-41-5 • April 2022 • 359 pages • CAD$39 • <https://bit.ly/BvjI>

Social Media & Capitalism: People, Communities and Commodities

Suddhabrata Deb Roy

This is one of the first books to focus strictly and solely upon the phenomenon of social accumulation of profits through the promotion of commercial activities on social media. In this regard, the book presents itself to be a pioneering study within Digital Capitalism Studies. The book analyses real-world interactions, interviews and observations through the theoretical framework provided by Marxist political economy and social theory.

ISBN 978-1-988832-89-0 • March 2022 • 150 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/3tSwX4o>

Insurrectionary uprisings: a reader in revolutionary nonviolence

Wende Marshall & Matt Meyer (eds)

Beginning with the work of Gandhi, Arendt and Thoreau, the volume grounds the theories which undergird nonviolent resistance to capitalism, colonialism, white supremacy and heteropatriarchy. The very different strands of activist thinkers who comprise the book centre it on the experience of the global majority.

With commentaries from academic and activist points of view, we uncover fault lines which have prevented mass global movements from solidifying over the last fifty years.

ISBN 978-1-988832-99-9 • January 2022 • 490 pages • CAD$49 • <https://bit.ly/3e0sfV9>

Nigeria and the Challenge of Federalism

Ike Okonta

The book identifies three key moments in Nigeria's experience with federalism and makes the argument that a complex and socially-diverse country like Nigeria can only be successfully governed by a truly federal arrangement. The time has come, write Ike Okonta, to convene a conference with sovereign powers to design a federal constitution for the country.

Ike Okonta was, until recently, a Leverhulme Early Career Fellow in the Department of Politics at the University of Oxford. Currently, he is Coordinating Fellow of the New Centre for Social Research, Abuja, Nigeria

ISBN 978-1-990263-39-2 • March 2022 • 75 pages • CAD$18 • <https://bit.ly/B3oJ>

Unearthing justice : how to protect your community from the mining industry

Joan Kuyek

The mining industry continues to be at the forefront of colonial dispossession around the world. Brimming with case studies, anecdotes, resources, and illustrations, Unearthing Justice exposes the mining process and its externalized impacts on the environment, Indigenous Peoples, communities, workers, and governments.

ISBN 978-1-990263-11-8 • February 2022 • 100 pages

FOR SALE IN EASTERN & SOUTHERN AFRICA ONLY

Life Histories from the Revolution: Three militants from the Kenya Land and Freedom Army tell their stories

Karigo Muchai, Ngugi Kabiro & Mohamed Mathu

In the early 1970s, Donald Barnett – who worked with Karari Njama to produce Mau Mau From Within (published by Daraja Press) – also worked with three militants of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army to enable them to tell the story of their experience in fighting for freedom and against British colonialism. Reproduced with the original illustrations from the three booklets produced in 1973.
ISBN 978-1-990263-13-2 • January 2022 • 200 pages • CAD$32 • <https://bityl.co/8iqK>

Politics and Culture in African Emancipatory Thought Michael Neocosmos, Amílcar Cabral, Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba

The current absence of any emancipatory vision for Africa lies at the heart of political problems of racial capitalist and colonial oppression. The two authors whose essays are included here understood this and posit popular culture at the centre of their politics. The first, Amílcar Cabral, addresses the central role of popular culture in the independence struggle of Guinea Bissau in the 1970s; the second, Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba, addresses the centrality of African popular culture in an emancipatory politics for the current Democratic Republic of Congo.

ISBN 978-1-990263-33-0 • December 2021 • 60 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bityl.co/9ggg>

Racism, Capitalism, and the COVID-19 Pandemic

Zophia Edwards This piece seeks to understand how the unremitting super-exploitation of Black and other nonwhite racialized labor persisted throughout the COVID-19 crisis through the lens of Black radical scholarship on racism and capitalism. It historicizes the pandemic within the long arc of racist capitalist labor super-exploitation at the birth of capitalism and in its subsequent unfolding. The author ends by reflecting on what it means to “return to normal” within the architecture of racial capitalism and the pursuit of a different path to justice and freedom.

ISBN 978-1-990263-31-6 • October 2021 • 60 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bityl.co/8iqJ>

Kenyan Organic Intellectuals Reflect on the Legacy of Pio Gama Pinto

Lewis Maghanga, Nicholas Mwangi

Members of the Organic Intellectual Network selected the book Pio Gama Pinto: Kenya's Unsung Martyr 1927-1965 by Shiraz Durrani as a basis for discussion for remembering the life of Pio Gama Pinto, Kenya's first martyr, a dedicated and selfless individual in the struggle for freedom in Kenya.

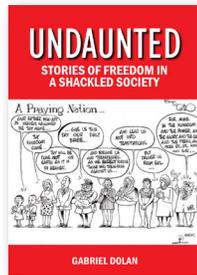

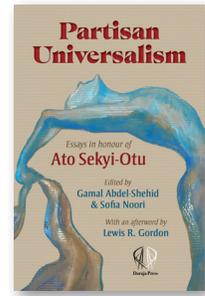

This booklet on Pinto has been produced in the tradition of 'looking back, in order to move forward' to not only salvage history but also to use it as a mirror to reflect on the current political, economic and social conditions in Kenya.

ISBN 978-1-990263-27-9 • October 2021 • 80 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bityl.co/8iqF>

Partisan Universalism: Essays in Honour of Ato Sekyi-Otu Gamal Abdel-Shehid, Sofia Noori

This collection of essays celebrates the work of Ato Sekyi-Otu as a scholar, teacher and friend, marking his extraordinary contribution to the philosophy, politics and praxis of liberation. As Ato Sekyi-Otu has argued in his most recent book, Left Universalism, Africacentric Essays, universalism is an 'inescapable presupposition of ethical judgment in general and critique in particular, especially indispensable for radical criticism of conditions of existence in postcolonial society and for vindicating visions of social regeneration'.

ISBN 978-1-990263-05-7 • September 2021 • 279 pages • CAD$34 • <https://bit.ly/3sGYioB>

Undaunted

Fr Gabriel Dolan

From his work in Kenya, Father Gabriel reminds us that true transformative change comes from the people themselves, from the bottom up. This is a challenge that the social justice/human rights practitioners must internalize and the sooner the better. The idea of being the "voice of the voiceless" must transform to facilitating, encouraging and giving space to those who suffer the indignities of injustice, violence, poverty and repression.

ISBN 978-9-914402-49-0 • September 2021 • 184 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/3X6V>

Extracting Profit

Lee Wengraf

Available only in East Africa at www.zandgraphics.com

A piercing historical explanation of poverty and inequality in African societies today and the social impact of resource-driven growth

ISBN 978-1-990263-19-4 • September 2021 • 350 pages • <https://bit.ly/3ekRBDF>

FOR SALE IN EAST AFRICA ONLY

Fanon Today: Reason and Revolt of the Wretched of the Earth

Nigel C Gibson

In less than a decade, from 1952 to 1961, Fanon wrote three books – Black Skin White Masks (1952), A Dying Colonialism (1959) and The Wretched of the Earth (1961) – that have become recognized as classics of decolonization.

From our present retrogressive reality, this book demands that we recast our vision and ask: What might this generation of intellectual revolutionaries and social movements ask of Fanon, and what might have Fanon asked of them?

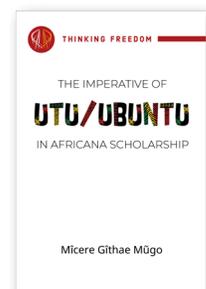

978-1-990263-01-9 • August 2021 • 547 pages • CAD$49 • <https://bit.ly/3aAmB1h>

The imperative of Utu/Ubuntu in Africana scholarship

Micere Githae Mugo

Written in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of Africana Studies and Research Center, Cornell University, this publication celebrates the birth of Black studies as a liberated academic zone. Professor Mũgo reflects upon the significance of Africana studies, specifically within the context of America's predominantly White universities.

ISBN 978-1-990263-24-8 • June 2021 • 39 pages • CAD$17.30 • <https://bit.ly/3CcllyM>

Politics, Democratization and Academia in Uganda: The Case of Makerere University

Joe Oloka-Onyango

Makerere University attracts considerable attention, both in respect of its prominence as well as its failures and foibles. As the oldest university in eastern-central Africa, Makerere looms large in the history of higher education on the continent.

This book explores the relationship between a public university of unique historical importance and the contestations over democratization that have taken place within campus and beyond.

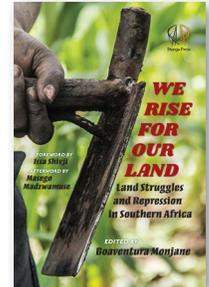

ISBN 978-1-990263-16-3 • July 2021 • 370 pages • CAD$38 • <https://bit.ly/3C7zLix>

We Rise for Our Land: Land Struggles and State Repression in Southern Africa

Boaventura Monjane

In recent years southern Africa has aroused the interest of domestic and foreign investors. The peasantry and rural people in general have not, however, been passive. Alone or in alliance with non-governmental organizations and activists, they have raised their voices to question logics that violate their rights.

ISBN 978-1-988832-68-5 • June 2021 • 239 pages • CAD$27.50 • <https://bit.ly/3xqtxqe>

Moving Beyond Capitalist Agriculture: Could Agroecology Prevent Further Pandemics?

Pandemic Research for the People

We introduce agroecology, an environmentalism of the peasantry, the poor, and the indigenous, long in practice, that treats agriculture as a part of the ecology out of which humanity grows its food. Agroecology combines ecological science, indigenous and peasant knowledges, and social movements for food and territorial sovereignty to achieve environmentally just food systems.

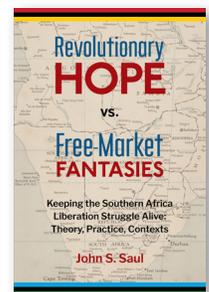

ISBN 978-1-988832-97-5 • March 2021 • 51 pages • CAD$22 • <https://bit.ly/3jnFJ66>

Revolutionary Hope vs Free-Market Fantasies

John S. Saul

John S. Saul, born and first educated in Toronto, Canada, moved to Tanzania almost sixty years ago and, since then, has also taught in Mozambique and South Africa as well as back in Canada. Saul lays out the broad premises of the thinking that has guided his endeavours, making the core reality of economic production and exploitation central but also assessing the impact on other social realities, including class, race, gender, sexuality, nationalism, the environment, politics and the state.

ISBN 978-1-988832-91-3 • June 2021 • 331 pages • $35 • <https://bit.ly/3rRrYAw>

Transforming ourselves, Transforming the World: An open conspiracy for social change – Second Edition Brian K. Murphy with an introduction by David Austin

Many of us are pessimistic about our ability to change the world when confronted by destructive political and corporative forces and the destruction they wreak. Murphy reveals the dilemmas which hold people back from social engagement, and argues that the various constraints we face can be overcome. David Austin explains in his introduction why this book, first published in 1999, is perhaps more relevant to our times than ever.

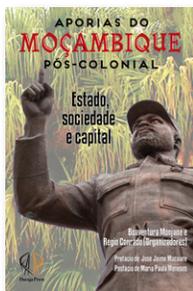

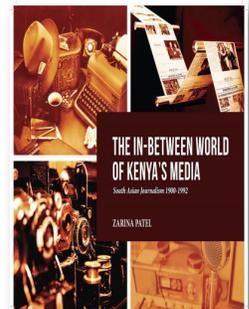

ISBN 978-1-988832-93-7 • May 2021 • 219 pages • CAD$27 • <https://bit.ly/3xoHmWn>

The In-Between World of Kenya's Media: South Asian Journalism, 1900-1992

Zarina Patel

Print media in India was vital in that country's liberation, so South Asian migrants in Kenya were aware of the importance of the press in advancing the anti-colonial campaign. After independence in 1963, South Asian journalists ventured into print, photo, radio and TV. However, anti-Asian sentiments in Kenya had a destabilizing effect and by the 1980s most South Asian journalists had emigrated to safer pastures. The author was able to contact over sixty of them, including families of deceased journalists, and collect their stories to present a fascinating panorama of South Asian journalism in the 20th century.

ISBN 978-9-966094-64-3 • March 2021 • 219 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/3rTH2xF>

Aporias de Moçambique pós-colonial: Estado, Sociedade e Capital

Boaventura Monjane e Regio Conrado

Este livro escrutina o impacto significativo da independência em diferentes sectores da sociedade moçambicana. Quarenta e cinco anos após a independência, Moçambique conheceu várias transformações. O Moçambique pós-colonial é hoje, em muitos aspectos, diferente do Moçambique colonial. No entanto, existem muitas questões permanentes relativas a essas transformações e ao seu impacto na maioria do povo moçambicano.

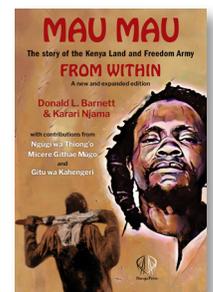

ISBN 78-1-988832-73-9 • March 2021 • 311 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/3CaCCXT>

Mau Mau From Within: The Story of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army

Donald Barnett, Karari Njama

The inside story of the struggles of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army, referred to by British colonialism as the 'Mau Mau rebellion', is little known today. The autobiographical material written by Karari Njama (a senior leader in the Mau Mau hierarchy) and compiled by Donald L. Barnett was first published by Monthly Review Press in 1966. The book is now republished by Daraja Press with a new prologue by Karari Njama and commentaries from Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o, Micere Githae Mugo, Kamoji Wachiira and Shujaa Hon Dr Gitu wa Kahengeri, Secretary-General of the Mau Mau War Veterans Association. There is also a new biographical note on Donald Barnett, who joined the ancestors in 1975.

ISBN 978-1-988832-59-3 • January 2021 • 410 pages • CAD$45 • <https://bit.ly/2VxAF6Q>

The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising

Shemon Salam & Arturo Castillon

A rebellion exploded in Minneapolis in response to the brutal police murder of George Floyd in late May 2020. The uprising quickly spread across the U.S. The Black proletariat led the charge, but white, Latinx, Asian, and Indigenous proletarians also joined the fight, demonstrating new possibilities for alliances. In an effort to think through the experience of the uprising and prepare for the great struggles that are coming, The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising provides an in-depth analysis of what exactly happened during the 2020 uprising, its potentials, internal limits, and strategic implications.

ISBN 978-1-988832-95-1 • February 2021 • 50 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bit.ly/3CnrsPR>

El Significado Revolucionario de la Revuelta de George Floyd

Shemon Salam y Arturo Castillon

Una rebelión explotó en Minneapolis en respuesta al asesinato policial de George Floyd, y durante la rebelión una estación de policía fue tomada y prendido fuego. Después de esto la revuelta se extendió rápidamente por todo los Estados Unidos. El Significado Revolucionario de la Revuelta de George Floyd proporciona un análisis de lo que sucedió durante los disturbios de 2020 en los Estados Unidos, sus potenciales, límites internos, e implicaciones estratégicas.

Esta es una traducción al español de The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising.

ISBN 978-1-990263-05-7 • October 2021 • 60 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bit.ly/3iqP>

Abolitionist Agroecology, Food Sovereignty and Pandemic Prevention

Maywa Montenegro de Wit

Pandemics have their roots in the violent separation of communities from their territories, seeds, knowledge and wealth. Racism enables such theft as fundamental to capitalist expansion. Maywa Montenegro explores a series of breakdowns, from fractured supply chains to uncontrolled infection among essential food workers. An abolitionist agroecology could crack open multiple possibilities that respond to the exigencies of a pandemic planet.

ISBN 978-1-990263-03-3<sup>a</sup> April 2021 • 79 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bit.ly/3frvuwu>

Agroecología Abolicionista, Soberanía Alimentaria y Prevención de Pandemias

Maywa Montenegro de Wit

COVID-19 ha expuesto la naturaleza racializada de los sistemas alimentarios, pero también potencialmente otorga oportunidades para construir de nuevo. Maywa Montenegro explora una serie de averías, desde cadenas de suministro fracturadas hasta infecciones incontroladas entre trabajadores de alimentos esenciales, entre comunidades negras, marrones e indígenas atravesadas por el virus a lo largo de viejos surcos de opresión racial y de clase. Esta es una traducción al español de Abolitionist Agroecology, Food Sovereignty and Pandemic Prevention

ISBN 978-1-990263-29-3 • October 2021 • 90 pages • CAD$19 • <https://bit.ly/3iqM>

Lenin150 (Samizdat): 2nd expanded edition

Hjalmar Jorge Joffre-Eichhorn, Johann Peter Salazar, Patrick Anderson

For all the efforts at forging a mythologised image of Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov as an austere professional revolutionary, the flesh and blood Lenin understood that the most materialist action an individual must carry out to metabolise the struggle for communism is to breathe. Not just biologically respire but consciously breathe. Breathe for oneself and breathe for and with others. If it is indeed our desire to breathe new life into the long choking red star, a new oxygenic Communist politics of walking and breathing is what we must aspire to, inspire, respire and encourage.

Lenin150 (Samizdat) seeks to contribute to the rekindling of the communist attractor by engaging, in the spirit of critical solidarity, with Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov in the year of his 150th anniversary.

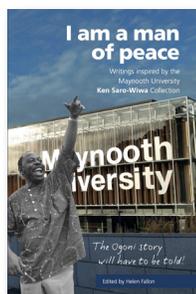

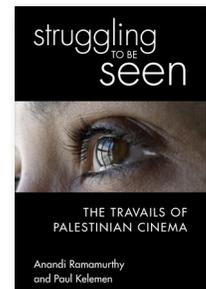

ISBN 978-1-988832-87-6 • January 2021 • 344 pages • CAD$55 • <https://bit.ly/3ioOf5P>

Struggling to be seen: The travails of Palestinian cinema

Anandi Ramamurthy, Paul Kelemen

Palestinian filmmakers confront challenges to develop a cinema that gives expression to the national narrative. The book is based on collaborative research involving Film Lab Palestine, Sheffield Palestine Cultural Exchange and Sheffield Hallam University and explores the political, economic and cultural contexts that impact on Palestinian film production and some of the barriers encountered in profiling and screening Palestinian films.

ISBN 978-1-988832-80-7 • December 2020 • 84 pages • CAD$17.50 • <https://bit.ly/2VyEGIA>

I am a man of peace: Writings inspired by the Maynooth University Ken Saro-Wiwa Collection

Helen Fallon

This book marks the 25th anniversary of the execution of Nigerian activist and writer Ken Saro-Wiwa. The 21 essays, by international contributors, and 42 poems by new and established poets, are inspired by his ideals and activism. The volume includes contributions by people intimately connected with Saro-Wiwa including his brother Dr Owens Wiwa, his daughter Noo Saro-Wiwa, and his stalwart supporter Sister Majella McCarron, who provides two personal essays.

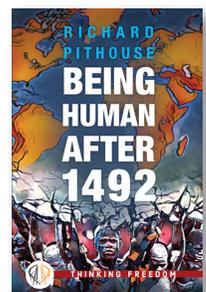

ISBN 978-1-9888327-0-8 • November 2020 • 104 pages • CAD$36 • <https://bit.ly/3xhBldW>

Being human after 1492

Richard Pithouse

The past does not merely haunt or shape the present via the enduring power of deep and impersonal structural forces. Across Europe, and in settler societies like Australia, Brazil and the United States, racism is an increasingly explicit and menacing presence at the centre of political and social life. We will not be able to transcend the epoch that began in 1492 without a politics that can confront and defeat this revanchism. And we will not have transcended this epoch until “things, in the most materialistic meaning of the word” are, as Frantz Fanon insists, “restored to their proper places”.

ISBN 978-1-988832-85-2 • November 2020 • 50 pages • CAD$13 • <https://bit.ly/2WHsHsv>

For the love of the struggle: Memoirs from El Salvador

Andrés (Drew) McKinley

From his home in El Salvador where he has lived over four decades, the author shares an intimate personal and political memoir that follows his remarkable journey from the comfort of a picturesque New England town to a stirring and heroic engagement with the struggle for peace and justice in El Salvador. Interwoven with this personal journey is the story of Teresa Rivas, her husband Antonio, and their five children in the war zones, all told against the backdrop of the decades-long people's struggle for economic justice, human rights and authentic democracy in El Salvador.

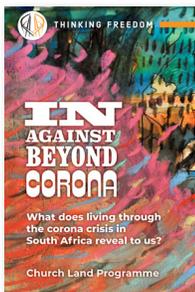

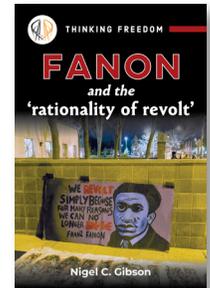

ISBN 978-1-988832-81-4 • October 2020 • 252 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/2Vu7iT4>

Fanon and the rationality of revolt

Nigel C Gibson

Frantz Fanon is always speaking to us, but often in ways we cannot hear. We have to work to listen to him and to understand the new contexts and meanings in relative opacity. It is this constant dialogue that helps illuminate the present and enable ongoing fidelity to Fanon's call in the conclusion of The Wretched of the Earth the necessity to work out new concepts to confront one of Fanon's greatest concerns, the betrayal of the revolutionary movement. In this pamphlet we consider how Fanon's idea of liberation is connected with "the rationality of revolt."

ISBN 978-1-988832-77-7 • October 2020 • 25 pages • CAD$14 • <https://bit.ly/3dGsb4i>

In Against Beyond Corona

Church Land Programme

The corona crisis reveals what is wrong and toxic — in ourselves, in relation with others, and in relation with the rest of non-human nature. But we can also look for what is good and life-affirming. The authors argue that the future must be founded on 'kindness, social solidarity and an appropriate scale of time', a future that cherishes life and the connections that transcend borders. This pamphlet is a vital contribution to much needed reflections and discussion.

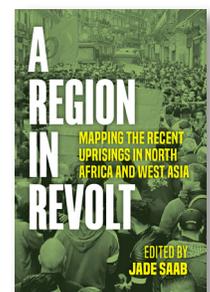

ISBN 978-1-988832-83-8 • October 2020 • 58 pages • CAD$15.50 • <https://bit.ly/3ineb1z>

A region in revolt: Mapping the recent uprisings in North Africa and West Asia

Jade Saab

A wave of mass protest movements has spread across North Africa and West Asia, including Sudan, Algeria, Iraq, Lebanon and Iran. The protests have much in common but each movement operates under different conditions. The specific historic, political and economic contexts have determined who the key actors are and their location across old and new divides. This book elaborates on these similarities and differences to paint a clearer picture of these movements and draw out lessons to inform future struggles.

ISBN 978-1-988832-61-6 • September 2020 • 178 pages • CAD$27.50 • <https://bit.ly/3C67aKi>

Dialectics of revolution : Hegel, Marxism, and its critics through a lens of race, class, gender, and colonialism

Kevin B. Anderson

This book collects four decades of writings on dialectics, a number of them published here for the first time, by Kevin B. Anderson, a well-known scholar-activist in the Marxist-Humanist tradition. The essays cover the dialectics of revolution in a variety of settings, from Hegel and the French Revolution to dialectics today and its poststructuralist and pragmatist critics. As a whole, the book offers a discussion of major themes in the dialectics of revolution that still speak to us today.

ISBN 978-1-9888327-5-3 • July 2020 • 247 pages • CAD$38 • <https://bit.ly/3ind9Tf>

Class, gender, race & colonialism: The 'intersectionality' of Marx

Kevin B Anderson

It is important to see both Marx's brilliant generalisations about capitalist society and the very concrete ways in which he examined not only class, but also gender, race, and colonialism, and what today would be called the intersectionality of all of these. His underlying revolutionary humanism was the enemy of all forms of abstraction that denied the variety and multiplicity of human experience, especially as his vision extended outward from Western Europe.

ISBN 978-1-988832-63-0 • April 2020 • 35 pages • CAD$15 • <https://bit.ly/2TTO8FV>

Rinky-Dink Revolution: Moving Beyond Capitalism by Withholding Consent, Creative Constructions, and Creative Destructions

Howard Waitzkin

This pamphlet tackles the question: how do we get from capitalism to post-capitalism?

It is critical reading to understand why capitalist-oriented industrial agriculture and its destruction of habitat can cause pandemics, why health-care systems organized around capitalist principles don't do well in pandemics, and how the current economic collapse, triggered by a pandemic, opens a door for revolutionary transformation.

ISBN 978-1-988832-53-1 • March 2020 • 72 pages • CAD$16 • <https://bit.ly/3io9vZm>

Strategic litigation and the struggle for Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual equality in Africa

Adrian Jjuuko

In the past two decades, 30 strategic cases have been filed by LGB activists in the Common Law African countries, namely in Botswana, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa, and Uganda. While most have been successful, they have not resulted in significant social change. On the contrary, there have been active backlashes against LGB persons, as well as the further criminalisation of same-sex relations and constitutional prohibitions on same-sex marriages in some jurisdictions. The author argues that activists in Common Law Africa have to design LGB strategic litigation in such a way as to fit within the actual social and political conditions in their countries if strategic litigation is to spur social change.

ISBN 978-1-988832-55-5 • February 2020 • 312 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/3yvWzX4>

Decolonization and Afro-Feminism

Sylvia Tamale

Congratulations to Sylvia Tamale, the 2022 recipient of the FTGS Book Prize for Decolonization and Afro-Feminism!

Six decades after colonial flags were lowered and African countries gained formal independence, the continent struggles to free itself from the deep legacies of colonialism, imperialism and patriarchy. Many intellectuals, politicians, feminists and other activists, eager to contribute to Africa's liberation, have frustratingly, felt like they took the wrong path. Analyzed through the eyes of Afro-feminism, this book revisits some of the fundamental preconditions needed for radical transformation.

Decolonization and Afro-feminism re-envisions Pan-Africanism as a more inclusive decolonizing/ decolonial movement that embraces Afro-feminist politics. Sylvia Tamale looks to the African philosophy of Ubuntu as a serious alternative for reinvigorating African notions of social justice.

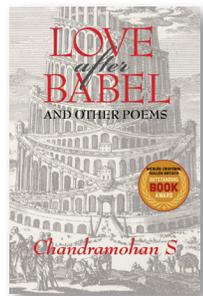

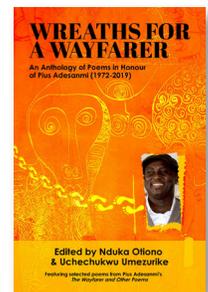

ISBN 978-1-988832-49-4 • February 2020 • 420 pages • CAD$49 • <https://bit.ly/3CdMeBe>

Wreaths for a Wayfarer: An Anthology in Honour of Pius Adesanmi

Nduka Otiono, Uchechukwu Umezurike

Pius Adesanmi died in the doomed Ethiopian Airline flight 302 in 2019. Wreaths for a Wayfarer: An Anthology in Honour of Pius Adesanmi assembles 267 original poems written by 127 established and emerging African writers. While some celebrate Adesanmi, others reflect philosophically on existence, mortality, immortality and/or offer hope for the living. The poets exorcise the pains of loss through provocative poems that pour out their beating hearts with passion.

ISBN 978-1-988832-33-3 • February 2020 • 328 pages • CAD$32 • <https://bit.ly/2WPIC8c>

Love after Babel and other poems

Chandramohan S

Winner of the Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Outstanding Book Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association

Love after Babel deals with themes such as caste, the resistance of Dalit people, Dalit literature, islamophobia and other political themes, in almost one hundred poems. The introduction is by Suraj Yengde, award-winning scholar and activist from India, author of the bestseller Caste Matters.

ISBN 978-1-988832-37-1 • January 2020 • 110 pages • CAD$22 • <https://bit.ly/3jhHRwl>

Africa Matters

Africa Matters: Cultural politics, political economies, & grammars of protest

A sampling of insightful articles from the first five issues of Nokoko, journal of the Institute of African Studies, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada. It brings together pieces that the journal's editorial board felt were particularly perspicacious in their analysis and resonant in their crafting. Uniting them in this book permits a new dialogue to emerge around the key themes of cultural politics, political economies and grammars of protest. Their intersection here sheds light on important issues for Africans in the twenty-first century.

ISBN 978-1-988832-31-9 • October 2019 • 237 pages • CAD$29 • <https://bit.ly/3n8iKxu>

Migrations, mobilités et développement en Afrique

Tome 1: Mobilités, circulations et frontières

Tome 2: Stratégies familiales, diaspora et investissements

Elieth P Eyebiyi & Angèle Flora Mendy

Ces livres sont un apport précieux au sujet des migrations à l'intérieur du continent africain. Celles-ci sont bien plus importantes quantitativement, mais aussi économiquement et historiquement, que les migrations de l'Afrique vers l'Europe. Elles sont beaucoup plus silencieuses et infiniment moins étudiées que celles du Sud vers le Nord.

1: ISBN 978-1-988832-43-2 • October 2019 • 294 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/3AdL1rJ>

2: ISBN 978-1-988832-45-6 • October 2019 • 304 pages • CAD$33 • <https://bit.ly/3CkuTqS>

Book size: 7.5 x 9.25 in

Under-Education in Africa: From Colonialism to Neoliberalism

Karim Hirji

The essays in this book cover Tanzanian education in the German colonial era, the days of Ujamaa socialism and the present neoliberal times. Themes include the social function of education, the impact of external dependency on education, practical versus academic education, democracy and violence in schools, the role of computers in education, the effect of privatization on higher education, misrepresentation of educational history, good and bad teaching styles, book reading, the teaching of statistics to doctors and student activism in education. Two essays provide a comparative view of the situation in Tanzania and the USA.

ISBN 978-1-988832-35-7 • August 2019 • 316 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/2WZ9blp>

Dictators as Gatekeepers for Europe: Outsourcing EU border controls to Africa

Christian Jakob, Simone Schlindwein

The EU has been trying to close as many deals as it can with African states, making it harder for refugees to find protection and more dangerous for labour migrants to reach places where they can earn an income. But this is not the only effect: the more Europe tries to control migration from Africa, the harder it becomes for many Africans to move freely through their own continent, even within their own countries.

ISBN 978-1-988832-27-2 • April 2019 • CAD$29 • <https://bit.ly/3CuhTyD>

Poems for the Penniless

Issa G Shivji, Ida Hadjivayanis

These poems by Issa Shivji, lawyer, activist and Tanzanian public intellectual, were written at different times in different circumstances. They give vent to personal anguish and political anger. Mostly originally written in Kiswahili, here accompanied by English translations, and they are intensely personal and political.

ISBN 978-1-988832-17-3 • May 2019 • 216 pages • CAD$24 • <https://bit.ly/2TXV8BE>

Silence Would Be Treason: Last writings of Ken Saro-Wiwa (Expanded 2nd Edition)

Helen Fallon, Ide Corley, Ken Saro-Wiwa, Laurence Cox

Reading through the letters and poems in The Last Writings of Ken Saro-Wiwa evokes intense memories of his resolute struggles against an oil behemoth and a deaf autocratic government. Saro-Wiwa's crusade frames one of the most tumultuous periods of Nigeria's history; his tragic story evokes anger and demands action to resolve the crises that first led the Ogoni people to demand that Shell clean up Ogoni lands or clear out of the territory.

ISBN 978-1-988832-24-1 • October 2018 • 22 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/3ytNjJZ>

Finding a Voice: Asian Women in Britain (New and Expanded Edition)

Amrit Wilson

First published in 1978, and winning the Martin Luther King Memorial Prize for that year, Finding a Voice established a new discourse on South Asian women's lives and struggles in Britain. Through discussions, interviews and intimate one-to-one conversations with South Asian women, in Urdu, Hindi, Bengali and English, it explored family relationships, the violence of immigration policies, deeply colonial mental health services, militancy at work and also friendship and love.

This new edition includes a preface by Meena Kandasamy, some historic photographs, and a remarkable new chapter titled 'In conversation with Finding a Voice: 40 years on' in which younger South Asian women write about their own lives and struggles weaving them around those portrayed in the book.

ISBN 978-1-988832-01-2 • October 2018 • 288 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/3je1rJS>

The Travails of a Tanzanian Teacher

Karim Hirji

The Travails of a Tanzanian Teacher is a riveting account of the bumpy first decade of the work life of Karim F Hirji, a retired Professor of Medical Statistics. Filled with a distinctive variety of eye-opening episodes, it covers lecturing at the University of Dar es Salaam, the life of a political exile in a remote rural area and the challenges of setting up from scratch a one-of-a-kind educational institute in Africa. With a style that seamlessly combines the personal with the general, Hirji provides an illuminating description of different aspects of the Tanzanian political, educational, economic and rural landscape during the 1970s..

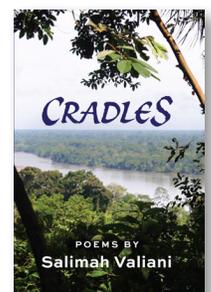

ISBN 978-1-988832-09-8 • October 2018 • 312 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/3fzikO9>

Cradles

Salimah Valiani

Cradles is a collection of poems on the nature(s) and nurturing that cradle us. Divided into four parts: Womb, Land, Tides and Wind, the poems ponder aspects of nature that create us and sustain us.

ISBN 978-0-9953474-9-6 • January 2018 • 152 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/3yrgrdG>

Song of Gulzarina and You're Not Here

Novels by Tariq Mehmood

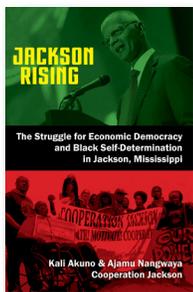

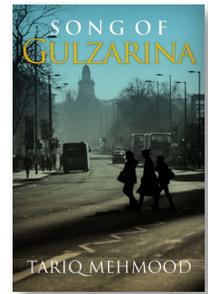

Two novels set in Britain among the Asian community there.

In Song of Gulzarina, a suicide bombing is being planned in a residential street in Manchester. Behind it lie Saleem Khan's vivid memories – some full of regret and yearning, others humorous and yet others overshadowed by the surreal brutality of the war in Afghanistan.

ISBN 978-0-995222-35-9 • 192 pages • CAD$16 • <https://bit.ly/3aMhVWn>

In You're Not Here, one brother goes missing in action in Afghanistan, the other falls in love with an Afghan girl in England. Bitter divisions engulf an English town where young Muslims oppose the British army's presence in Afghanistan, whilst white youth condemn the Muslims as traitors.

ISBN 978-1-988832-07-4 • 239 pages • CAD$16.50 • <https://bit.ly/38xm52t>

Jackson Rising: The Struggle for Economic Democracy and Black Self-Determination in Jackson, Mississippi

Ajumu Nangwaya and Kali Akuno

Mississippi is the poorest state in the U.S. with the highest percentage of Black people and a history of vicious racial terror. The concurrent Black resistance is the backdrop and context for the drama captured in the collection of essays that is Jackson Rising: The Struggle for Economic Democracy and Black Self-Determination in Jackson, Mississippi. The long-awaited release of this seminal anthology will unveil the strategies and methods being pursued by this ongoing movement for Black community control and people-centered economic development.

ISBN 978-0-9953474-5-8 • October 2017 • 312 pages • CAD$29 • <https://bit.ly/3CbJVOZ>

October 1917 Revolution: A century later

Samir Amin

Great revolutions make history. Counter-revolutions only delay their progress. The French revolution invented modern politics and democracy, the Russian revolution paved the way for the socialist transition, while the Chinese revolution connected the emancipation of those peoples oppressed by imperialism with the path to socialism. These revolutions are great precisely because they are bearers of undertakings that are far ahead of the immediate demands of their time. beacons that illuminate the still unfinished struggles of the peoples for the realization of these goals. It is impossible to understand the contemporary world by ignoring these great revolutions.

ISBN 978-1-988832-05-0 • October 2017 • 124 pages • CAD$23 • <https://bit.ly/3imboWn>

Citizenship, Identity and Belonging in Kenya

Zahid Rajan & Zarina Patel (eds)

Every couple of years, AwaaZ Magazine organizes a SAMOSA festival in Nairobi, Kenya – South Asian Mosaic of Society and the Arts. In 2016 a colloquium was organized in collaboration with the Department of Literature of the University of Nairobi. This unique collection of essays considers the issues of citizenship, identity and belonging in Kenya through an examination of literature, film, music, and theatre, providing reflections on women, statelessness and refugees.

ISBN 978-0-995347-47-2 • October 2017 • 158 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/2PcE34w>

The Enduring Relevance of Walter Rodney's 'How Europe Underdeveloped Africa'

Karim Hirji

Soon after its publication in 1972, Walter Rodney's How Europe Underdeveloped Africa gained global popularity among those concerned with African affairs. Because it stridently took the traditional historians and the prevailing neo-colonial order to task, it was also pilloried by the defenders of the status quo. And, in these neoliberal times, mainstream pundits claim that it is no longer relevant for Africa.

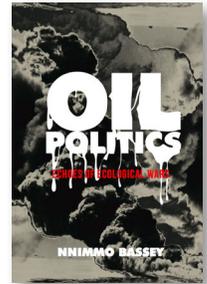

Karim Hirji makes a systematic case that, on the contrary, Rodney's seminal work retains its singular value for understanding where Africa has come from, where it is going, and charting the path towards genuine development for its people.

ISBN 978-0-9952223-9-7 • February 2017 • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/3ej7vyh>

Oil Politics: Echoes of Ecological Wars

Nnimmo Bassey

The essays here contribute to developing and deepening an understanding of the ecological challenges ravaging Africa and our world today. These essays are not meant just to enable for coffee table chatter: they are intended as calls to action, as a means of encouraging others facing similar threats to share their experiences. Set out in seven sections, this book of 54 essays deals with deep ecological changes taking place primarily in Nigeria but with clear links to changes elsewhere in the world.

ISBN 978-0-995222-31-1 • October 2016 • 192 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/32z93yu>

Tishio La Ukombozi: Ubeberu na Mapinduzi Zanzibar

Amrit Wilson

A Kiswahili translation of Amrit Wilson's book The Threat to Liberation originally published in English by Pluto Press (2013). In her introduction, Wilson describes Zanzibar in today's context 'as an important piece in the jigsaw of the United States foreign and military policy in Africa'.

ISBN 978-0-995222-32-8 • September 2016 • 204 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/3epp7II>

Sacrificar Um Continente: A Extração Destrutiva e a Crise Climática na África

Nnimmo Bassey

O nigeriano Nnimmo Bassey é arquiteto, ativista ambiental e escritor. Foi presidente dos Amigos da Terra Internacional (Friends of the Earth International) de 2008 a 2012 e Diretor Executivo da Ação pelos Direitos Ambientais (Environmental Rights Action) durante duas décadas. Em 2009, foi nomeado "Herói do Ambiente" pela revista Time e, em 2010, foi co-vencedor do prestigiado Right Livelihood Award (considerado o Prémio Nobel Alternativo). Em 2012, ganhou o Rafto Prize. É atualmente diretor da Fundação Health of Mother Earth, uma organização ambientalista de reflexão e advocacia.

ISBN 978-1-500405-95-3 • July 2014 • 206 pages • CAD$28 • <https://bit.ly/3dDWCYy>

Claim No Easy Victories: The Legacy of Amilcar Cabral

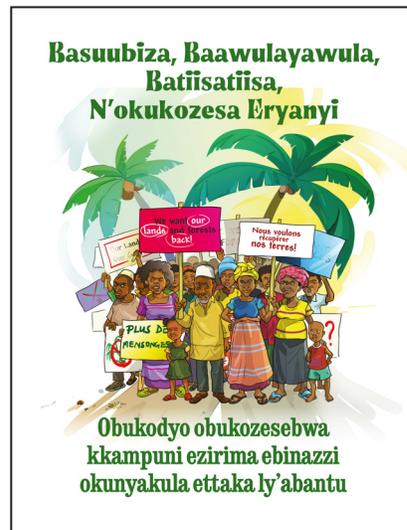

Firoze Manji, Bill Fletcher Jr

2013 marked the 40th anniversary of the assassination of Amilcar Cabral, revolutionary, poet, liberation philosopher, and leader of the independence movement of Guinea Bissau and Cap Verde. Cabral's influence stretched well beyond the shores of West Africa. He had a profound influence on the pan-Africanist movement and the black liberation movement in the US.

In this unique collection of essays, contemporary thinkers commemorate the anniversary of Cabral's assassination. They reflect on the legacy of this extraordinary individual and his relevance to contemporary struggles for self-determination and emancipation.

ISBN 978-2869785557 • October 2013 • 518 pages • CAD$46 • <https://bit.ly/32ybce3>

Produced on behalf of Grain.org

French and Luganda versions of Promise, Divide, Intimidate, Coerce: 12 tactics palm oil companies use to grab community land

The booklet “Promise, Divide, Intimidate and Coerce: 12 tactics palm oil companies use to grab community land” describes the main tactics used by industrial oil palm corporations to take over community land. The aim is to support communities who want to strengthen their resistance and better prepare themselves to stop corporations from establishing industrial oil palm plantations on their lands.

If a community is aware of experiences elsewhere, it can more easily recognise company tactics. A community can then discuss different responses early on, so that when one way of resisting the company's plans fails, the community can persevere and try a different way, while being prepared for new tactics that the company might use.

<https://tinyurl.com/37kyhnx>

FORTHCOMING

Settler Colonialism Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz

Settler Colonialism examines the genesis in the USA of the first full-fledged settler state in the world, which went beyond its predecessors in 1492. Both the liberal and the rightwing versions of the national narrative misrepresent the process of European colonization of North America. Both narratives serve the critical function of preserving the “official story” of a mostly benign and benevolent USA.

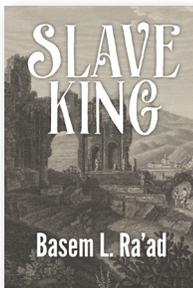

ISBN 978-1-990263-50-7 • July 2022 • 61 pages • CAD$20

The Revolutionary Ecological Legacy of Herbert Marcuse Charles Reitz

The Revolutionary Ecological Legacy of Herbert Marcuse is a product of the EarthCommonWealth Project which appeals to the energies of those engaged in a wide range of contemporary social justice struggles such as ecosocialism, antiracism, the women’s movement, LGBTQ rights, and antiwar forces. As the dialectical counterpart of Marcuse’s Great Refusal, the EarthCommonWealth Project is keyed to what we are struggling for not just what we are struggling against.

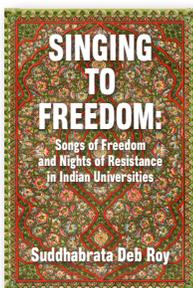

ISBN 978-1-990263-44-6 • July 2022 • 200 pages • CAD$22

Slave King Basem L. Ra'ad

Slave King is a recreation of the first slave revolt in history, led by Syrian slave Younis circa 140-132 BCE, several decades before Spartacus. It succeeded in forging a coalition of slaves, farmers and herders that defeated several Roman armies. The novel speaks the language of the powerless and the oppressed, an old story that has contemporary implications for history and culture.

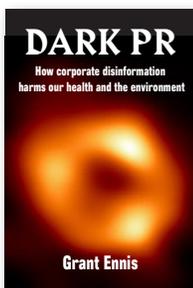

ISBN 978-1-990263-52-1 • September 2022

Singing to Liberation: Songs of Freedom and Nights of Resistance in Indian Universities Suddhabrata Deb Roy

Protest music occupies a central position in the organisational fabric of contemporary Indian progressive and revolutionary politics. Drawing from insights gained from over 25 interviews with cultural activists, the book analyses the deep connections between cultural and other forms of resistance.

ISBN 978-1-990263-49-1 • September 2022

Dark PR: How corporate disinformation harms our health and the environment Grant Ennis

Grant Ennis, drawing on his decades of experience working in the environmental, philanthropy, and public health sectors, reveals exactly how multinationals go about hoodwinking and manipulating us. Corporations divert citizens’ attention away from the real causes of global problems, leading them into counter-productive blind-alley “solutions” like ethical consumerism and divestment.

ISBN 978-1-990263-48-4 • September 2022

FORTHCOMING continued

Love Pandemic: poems

Salimah Valiani

These poems were largely written during the first wave of the COVID-19 pandemic. The last poem in the collection was written at the start of the second wave in Africa. Most were circulated through Whatsapp voice notes, an intimate way of keeping distance while reaching out to touch.

ISBN 978-1-990263-47-7 • September 2022

Religion, Politics, Science and Society: A progressive primer

Karim F. Hirji

What causes religious strife? Can it be resolved or prevented? The author writes as an informed humanist who respects the right of any person to practice the religion of their choice. He explores the interrelationship between religion, politics and society by employing evidence and reason while avoiding bias.

ISBN 978-1-990263-23-1 • September 2022 • 300 pages • CAD$38 • <https://bit.ly/3c4uBs2>

Black Anarchism and the Black Radical Tradition: Moving Beyond Racial Capitalism

Atticus Bagby Williams and Nsambu Za Suekama
Edited by Shannon Fauwkes

Black anarchism aims to move beyond racial capitalism. With roots in the Black Radical Tradition, Black anarchism differs from the anarchisms shaped by white leadership in Europe and the United States. The book opens a crucial path forward during the coming transformation.

ISBN 978-1-990263-32-3 • September 2022 • 60 pages • CAD$17 • <https://bit.ly/3ekZ59E>

From Citizen to Refugee: Uganda Asians Come To Britain

Mahmood Mamdani

This book was originally written in 1973, shortly after Idi Amin expelled citizens of Asian background from Uganda. In Britain, over 4,000 Asians languished in camps. Mahmood Mamdani was there. In a new 2022 introduction, Mamdani reassesses the experience.

ISBN 978-1-990263-51-4 • October 2022

Postcolonial inequality & struggles for social justice: A graphic story

Daniel Bendix, Chandra Danielzik, Franziska Müller, Lata Narayanaswamy, Juan Telleria, Miriam Friz Trzeciak, Aram Ziai

Postcolonial critique deconstructs global inequality in its epistemic and material dimensions. This collective comic project illuminates everyday life's coloniality as well as the decolonising potential of everyday struggles in the spaces, discourses and practices of so-called 'global development'.

ISBN 978-1-990263-46-0 • October 2022

FORTHCOMING continued

Hand on the Sun

Tariq Mehmood

Tariq Mehmood's first novel, published by Penguin Books in 1983, charted the experience of second-generation migrants to the UK. It is a raw story of pain and anger at the relentlessness of British racism, from the street to the state – a story of an unquenchable desire for justice.

This is an extended version of the original novel.

ISBN 978-1-988832-58-6 • November 2022 • 150 pages

The White Savior Complex in International Development

Dickson Kanakulya, Maïka Sondarjee, Themrise Khan

Uniting scholars and practitioners from around the world, this book will address white saviorism as one of the perennial underbelly challenges of the global development aid industry. Overall, this book will analyze how development practices can undermine voices in the Global South and perpetuate a harsh myth of white superiority.

ISBN 978-1-990263-20-0 • November 2022 • 200 pages • CAD$26 • <https://bit.ly/2PcO55G>

COVID-19: Moving the narrative and the struggle upstream

Howard Waitzkin

Howard Waitzkin is also author of the Daraja Press title Rinky-Dink Revolution.

ISBN 978-1-990263-08-8 • December 2022 • 100 pages • CAD$20 • <https://bit.ly/2QfyNxE>

Development, Monetary Sovereignty and the Pursuit of African Monetary Union

Riaz Tayob

A monetary union means the pooling of states' monetary sovereignty to a supranational body. The AU proposition has an intermediate stage is for a central bank without a state (or fiscus) and states with neutered central banks. This book exposes the many dangers of the monetary union that fails to contribute to real development in Africa.

ISBN tba • December 2022

Goodbye to Anthropology: Rationale for Dissidence

Colectivo Máquina Crísica

The collective Máquina Crísica make a fundamental “critique of anthropology” that would contribute to transformative politics, that challenge the reproduction of existing anthropologies, since the latter has blocked the possibility of inscribing social research in the space of emancipatory thought.

ISBN tba • December 2022

FORTHCOMING continued

Popular Resistance to Xenophobic Violence: The case of South Africa

Jemima Parker

The book examines popular responses to the crisis of xenophobic violence in South Africa, arguing that xenophobia is not primarily a reaction to unfavourable social conditions, but a discourse which has arisen from an exclusionary conception of state nationalism. It is in the thought of the politically marginalized that new and potentially emancipatory visions of politics may emerge.

ISBN 978-1-990263-10-1 • December 2022 • 200 pages • CAD$22 • <https://bit.ly/3tE1S44>

Some of Us are Brave: Black women speak

Thandisizwe Chimurenga

Thandisizwe Chimurenga is an award-winning, freelance journalist who has interviewed over a number of years leading women thinkers including Assata Shakur, Michelle Alexander, Barbara Ransby, Claudia Jones, Euzhan Palcy, and Carol Boyce Davies. These are transcripts from her archives.

ISBN 978-1-990263-11-8 • December 2022 • 100 pages • CAD$22

Limits of the Black Radical Tradition and the Value-Form

Shemon Salam

Salam outlines the rise and fall of the Black Liberation Movement and class struggle in the 20th century. But this defeat is not permanent, Limits sees the return of the tradition in the form of riots, revolutions, and wars. Salam has been an activist since 2001 and is also co-author of the Daraja Press title The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising.

ISBN 978-1-990263-14-9 • December 2022 • 300 pages • CAD$33

The Dialectics of Emancipation and Africa: political theory and political practice

Michael Neocosmos

We must think differently about emancipatory politics in Africa. This book will focus on dialectical thought as a feature of all emancipatory political experiments there. It traces dialectical thinking to its origins in Ancient Egypt that arguably influenced Plato, and notes its opposition to the idea of representation in state politics during various historical sequences right up to the present.

ISBN 978-1-990263-09-5 • January 2023 • 200 pages • CAD$35

Afro-Asian Poetry from the Bandung Era

Tariq Mehmood (ed)

The first large-scale Asian–African conference – the Bandung Conference – was held in 1955. The conference's aim were to promote Afro-Asian economic cooperation and to oppose colonialism. But the dreamers of this new destiny were clear, that not only was it necessary to take back control of resources from colonial powers, it was also vital to reclaim history and culture as well.

ISBN 978-1-990263-45-3 • January 2023

About Daraja Press

Daraja Press publishes to reclaim the past, contest the present and invent the future.

Daraja Press is a not-for-profit publisher, based in Québec, Canada, that seeks to reclaim the past, contest the present and invent the future. Daraja is the KiSwahili word for 'bridge'. As its name suggests, Daraja Press seeks to build bridges, especially bridges of solidarity between and amongst movements, intellectuals and those engaged in struggles for a just world.

We seek to build upon, develop and support interconnections between emancipatory struggles of the oppressed and exploited across the world. In a phrase, our aim is to nurture reflection, shelter hope and inspire audacity.

Daraja Press publishes print books, e-books, pamphlets, campaign materials, and video and audio content, including recent series of more than 100 podcasts under the theme Organising in the time of Covid-19.

We actively encourage cooperation with other publishers and have co-published with some 20 other publishers. Many of our titles are published in Kenya by Zand Graphics Ltd for distribution at local prices in East Africa.

Love after Babel and other poems by Chandramohan S won the Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Outstanding Book Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association, Decolonization and Afro-Feminism by Sylvia Tamale won the 2022 FTGS Book Prize, and Revolutionary Hope vs Free-Market Fantasies by John S Saul has been nominated for the Rik Davidson / Studies in Political Economy Book Prize in Political Economy.

In addition, the poetry book 29 leads to love by Salimah Valiani, published by Inanna Publications, has won the 2022 International Book Awards Winner for Contemporary Poetry. Salimah is the author of Cradles and Love Pandemic published by Daraja Press.

Daraja Press's publisher Firoze Manji is the recipient of the 2021 Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Lifetime Achievement Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association.