

WINTER 2022-2023

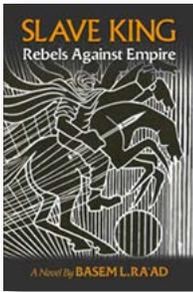

Daraja Press

Nurturing reflection, sheltering hope & inspiring audacity

Daraja Press is a member of the Literary Press Group of Canada
Distributed in Canada and North America by LitDisCo: www.litdistco.ca
Distributed in Europe by: CentralBooks.com

CURRENT TITLES

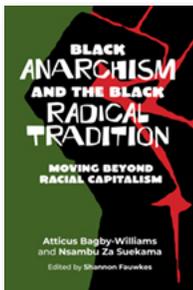

Slave King: Rebels Against Empire

Basem L. Ra'ad

Slave King is a recreation of the first slave revolt in history, led by Syrian slave Younis circa 140-132 BCE. It succeeded in forging a coalition of slaves, farmers and herders that defeated several Roman armies. The novel speaks the language of the oppressed, an old story that has contemporary implications for history and culture.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-52-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-52-1 • Fall 2022
$18 • <https://bityl.co/DTZR>

Black Anarchism and the Black Radical Tradition: Moving Beyond Racial Capitalism

Atticus Bagby-Williams and Nsambu Za Suekama
Edited by Shannon Fauwkes

With roots in the Black Radical Tradition, Black anarchism differs from the anarchisms shaped by white leadership in Europe and the United States. The book opens a crucial path forward during the coming transformation.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-32-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-32-3 • Fall 2022
60 pages • $18 • <https://bityl.co/DTc4>

From Citizen to Refugee: Uganda Asians Come To Britain

Mahmood Mamdani

This book was originally written in 1973, shortly after Idi Amin expelled citizens of Asian background from Uganda. In Britain, over 4,000 Asians languished in camps. Mahmood Mamdani was there. In a new 2022 introduction, he reassesses the experience.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-51-8 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-51-4 • Fall 2022
102 pages • $15 • <https://bityl.co/DSZA>

Religion, Politics and Society: A progressive primer

Karim F. Hirji

Religion, Politics and Society covers the four major global religions – Hinduism, Buddhism, Christianity and Islam – several minor religions – African Folk Religion, Ahmadiyya Muslim Jamaat, Confucianism, Seventh Day Adventism, Sikhism – as well as secularism. While beliefs differ, all humans are equal in dignity and have equal rights.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-12-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-12-5 • September 2022
300 pages • <https://bit.ly/3c4uBs2>

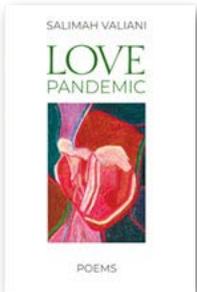

Post Capitalist Philanthropy

Alnoor Ladha and Lynn Murphy

The authors take us on a journey from the history of wealth accumulation to the current logic of late-stage capitalism to the lived possibilities of other ways of knowing, sensing and being that can usher in life-centric models. This “ontological shift”, as they call it, is at the heart of the text.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-53-4 • ISBN-13: 979-8-986531-00-7 • October 2022
264 pages • $39.99

Love Pandemic: poems

Salimah Valiani

These poems were written during the first wave of the COVID-19 pandemic. The last poem was written at the start of the second wave in Africa. Most were circulated through Whatsapp, an intimate way of keeping distance while reaching out to touch.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-53-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-47-7 • September 2022
30 pages • $12 • <https://bityl.co/DTap>

Settler Colonialism

Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz

Settler Colonialism examines the genesis in the USA of the first full-fledged settler state in the world. Both the liberal and the rightwing versions of the national narrative misrepresent the process of European colonization. Both narratives serve the function of preserving the “official story” of a mostly benign and benevolent USA.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-50-X • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-50-7 • July 2022
61 pages • $20 • <https://bityl.co/DSZJ>

The Revolutionary Ecological Legacy of Herbert Marcuse

Charles Reitz

This book is a product of the EarthCommonWealth Project which appeals to the energies of those engaged in a social justice struggles such as ecosocialism, antiracism, the women’s movement, LGBTQ rights, and antiwar forces. As the dialectical counterpart of Marcuse’s Great Refusal, the EarthCommonWealth Project is keyed to what we are struggling for not just what we are struggling against.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-44-5 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-44-6 • July 2022
200 pages • $32 • <https://bityl.co/DSZI>

Mathare: An Urban Bastion of Anti-Oppression Struggle in Kenya

Samuel Gathanga Ndung'u

The history of Mathare has not been documented until now. Samuel Gathanga Ndung'u surveys its role as the planning ground for the Mau Mau struggle – which culminated with the fall of the British colonial empire in Kenya in December 1963 – and its place in the ongoing struggle against the four regimes that Kenya has seen since independence.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-42-9 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-43-9 • June 2022
74 pages • $18 • <https://bityl.co/DSZE>

Mutiny of Morning: a Black Appropriation of Heart of Darkness

Nikesha Breeze

Nikesha Breeze takes pages from Joseph Conrad's Heart of Darkness, takes his words, and forces them to leave his colonized mind. She makes the words her own in poetic form. She illuminates the invisible Black voices inside, a radical, surgical, and unapologetic Black appropriation, at the same time as a careful birthing and spiritual road map. The resulting poems are sizzling purifications, violent restorations of integrity, pain, wound, bewilderment, rage, and, sometimes, luminous generosity.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-35-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-35-4 • May 2022

100 pages • $30 • <https://bitly.co/DSZL>

Mental Health and Human Rights in Palestine: The life of Gaza's Pioneering Psychiatrist, Dr Eyad El Sarraj

Wasseem El Sarraj

This biography of the life of Dr Eyad El Sarraj, Gaza's pioneering psychiatrist and founder of the Gaza Community Mental Healthcare Programme is written by his son, Wasseem El Sarraj. It is also a history of Palestine with a focus on Gaza. Dr El Sarraj's life was intimately intertwined with Palestine's struggles so his choices and reactions reflected many of the major historical moments of the last 70 years.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-37-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-37-8 • April 2022

132 pages • $21 • <https://bitly.co/DSZO>

International Brigade Against Apartheid: Secrets of the People's War That Liberated South Africa

Ronnie Kasrils

We hear for the first time from the international activists who worked secretly for the ANC's armed wing, Umkhonto we Sizwe(MK), in the struggle to liberate South Africa from apartheid rule. They acted as couriers, provided safe houses in neighbouring states and within South Africa, helped infiltrate combatants across borders, and smuggled tonnes of weapons into the country in the most creative ways. Driven by a spirit of international solidarity, they were prepared to take huge risks and face great danger.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-41-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-41-5 • April 2022

359 pages • $27 • <https://bitly.co/Bvjl>

Social Media & Capitalism: People, Communities and Commodities

Suddhabrata Deb Roy

This is one of the first books to focus strictly and solely upon the phenomenon of social accumulation of profits through the promotion of commercial activities on social media. In this regard, the book presents itself to be a pioneering study within Digital Capitalism Studies. The book analyses real-world interactions, interviews and observations through the theoretical framework provided by Marxist political economy and social theory.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-89-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-89-0 • March 2022

150 pages • $23 • <https://bit.ly/3tSwX4o>

Insurrectionary uprisings: a reader in revolutionary nonviolence

Wendie Marshall & Matt Meyer (eds)

Beginning with the work of Gandhi, Arendt and Thoreau, the volume grounds the theories which undergird nonviolent resistance to capitalism, colonialism, white supremacy and heteropatriarchy. The very different strands of activist thinkers who comprise the book centre it on the experience of the global majority.

With commentaries from academic and activist points of view, we uncover fault lines which have prevented mass global movements from solidifying over the last fifty years.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-99-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-99-9 • January 2022
490 pages • $35 • <https://bit.ly/3eosfV9>

Nigeria and the Challenge of Federalism

Ike Okonta

The book identifies three key moments in Nigeria's experience with federalism and makes the argument that a complex and socially-diverse country like Nigeria can only be successfully governed by a truly federal arrangement. The time has come, writes Ike Okonta, to convene a conference with sovereign powers to design a federal constitution for the country.

Ike Okonta was, until recently, a Leverhulme Early Career Fellow in the Department of Politics at the University of Oxford. Currently, he is Coordinating Fellow of the New Centre for Social Research, Abuja, Nigeria

ISBN-10: 1-990263-39-9 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-39-2 • March 2022
75 pages • $12 • <https://bit.ly.co/B3oJ>

Life Histories from the Revolution: Three militants from the Kenya Land and Freedom Army tell their stories

Karigo Muchai, Ngugi Kabiro & Mohamed Mathu

In the early 1970s, Donald Barnett – who worked with Karari Njama to produce Mau Mau From Within (also published by Daraja Press) – worked with three other militants of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army to enable them to tell the story of their experience in fighting for freedom and against British colonialism. Reproduced with the original illustrations from the three booklets produced in 1973.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-13-5 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-13-2 • January 2022
200 pages • $22 • <https://bit.ly.co/8iqK>

Politics and Culture in African Emancipatory Thought

Michael Neocosmos, Amílcar Cabral, Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba

The current absence of any emancipatory vision for Africa lies at the heart of political problems of racial capitalist and colonial oppression. The two authors whose essays are included here understood this and posit popular culture at the centre of their politics. The first, Amílcar Cabral, addresses the central role of popular culture in the independence struggle of Guinea Bissau in the 1970s; the second, Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba, addresses the centrality of African popular culture in an emancipatory politics for the current Democratic Republic of Congo.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-33-X • ISBN-13 978-1-990263-33-0 • December 2021
60 pages • $14 • <https://bit.ly.co/9ggg>

Racism, Capitalism, and the COVID-19 Pandemic

Zophia Edwards

This piece seeks to understand how the unremitting super-exploitation of Black and other nonwhite racialized labor persisted throughout the COVID-19 crisis through the lens of Black radical scholarship on racism and capitalism. It historicizes the pandemic within the long arc of racist capitalist labor super-exploitation at the birth of capitalism and in its subsequent unfolding. The author ends by reflecting on what it means to “return to normal” within the architecture of racial capitalism and the pursuit of a different path to justice and freedom.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-31-3 • ISBN 978-1-990263-31-6 • October 2021
60 pages • $13 • <https://bityl.co/8iqI>

Kenyan Organic Intellectuals Reflect on the Legacy of Pio Gama Pinto

Lewis Maghanga, Nicholas Mwangi

Members of the Organic Intellectual Network selected the book Pio Gama Pinto: Kenya's Unsung Martyr 1927-1965 by Shiraz Durrani as a basis for discussion for remembering the life of Pio Gama Pinto, Kenya's first martyr, a dedicated and selfless individual in the struggle for freedom in Kenya.

This booklet on Pinto has been produced in the tradition of ‘looking back, in order to move forward’ to not only salvage history but also to use it as a mirror to reflect on the current political, economic and social conditions in Kenya.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-27-5 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-27-9 • October 2021
80 pages • $13 • <https://bityl.co/8iqF>

Partisan Universalism: Essays in Honour of Ato Sekyi-Otu

Gamal Abdel-Shehid, Sofia Noori

This collection of essays celebrates the work of Ato Sekyi-Otu as a scholar, teacher and friend, marking his extraordinary contribution to the philosophy, politics and praxis of liberation. As Ato Sekyi-Otu has argued in his most recent book, Left Universalism, Africentric Essays, universalism is an ‘inescapable presupposition of ethical judgment in general and critique in particular, especially indispensable for radical criticism of conditions of existence in postcolonial society and for vindicating visions of social regeneration’.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-05-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-05-7 • September 2021
279 pages • $27 • <https://bit.ly/3sGYioB>

Undaunted

Fr Gabriel Dolan

From his work in Kenya, Father Gabriel reminds us that true transformative change comes from the people themselves, from the bottom up. This is a challenge that the social justice/human rights practitioners must internalize and the sooner the better. The idea of being the “voice of the voiceless” must transform to facilitating, encouraging and giving space to those who suffer the indignities of injustice, violence, poverty and repression.

ISBN-10: 9-914402-49-6 • ISBN-13: 978-9-914402-49-0 • September 2021
184 pages • $13 • <https://bityl.co/8X6V>

Fanon Today: Reason and Revolt of the Wretched of the Earth

Nigel C Gibson

In less than a decade, from 1952 to 1961, Fanon wrote three books – Black Skin White Masks (1952), A Dying Colonialism (1959) and The Wretched of the Earth (1961) – that have become recognized as classics of decolonization.

From our present retrogressive reality, this book demands that we recast our vision and ask: What might this generation of intellectual revolutionaries and social movements ask of Fanon, and what might have Fanon asked of them?

ISBN-10: 1-990263-01-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-01-9 • August 2021
547 pages • $32 • <https://bit.ly/3aAmB1h>

The imperative of Utu/Ubuntu in Africana scholarship

Micere Githae Mugo

Written in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of Africana Studies and Research Center, Cornell University, this publication celebrates the birth of Black studies as a liberated academic zone. Professor Mũgo reflects upon the significance of Africana studies, specifically within the context of America's predominantly White universities.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-24-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-24-8 • June 2021 •
39 pages • $14 • <https://bit.ly/84JB>

Politics, Democratization and Academia in Uganda: The Case of Makerere University

Joe Oloka-Onyango

Makerere University attracts considerable attention, both in respect of its prominence as well as its failures and foibles. As the oldest university in eastern-central Africa, Makerere looms large in the history of higher education on the continent.

This book explores the relationship between a public university of unique historical importance and the contestations over democratization that have taken place within campus and beyond.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-16-X • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-16-3 • July 2021
370 pages • $27 • <https://bit.ly/2RUzcpF>

We Rise for Our Land: Land Struggles and State Repression in Southern Africa

Boaventura Monjane

In recent years southern Africa has aroused the interest of domestic and foreign investors. The peasantry and rural people in general have not, however, been passive. Alone or in alliance with non-governmental organizations and activists, they have raised their voices to question logics that violate their rights.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-68-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-68-5 • June 2021
239 pages • $21 • <https://bit.ly/3gyIAcH>

Moving Beyond Capitalist Agriculture: Could Agroecology Prevent Further Pandemics?

Pandemic Research for the People

We introduce agroecology, an environmentalism of the peasantry, the poor, and the indigenous, long in practice, that treats agriculture as a part of the ecology out of which humanity grows its food. Agroecology combines ecological science, indigenous and peasant knowledges, and social movements for food and territorial sovereignty to achieve environmentally just food systems.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-97-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-97-5 • March 2021
51 pages • $15 • <https://bit.ly/3xg5knB>

Revolutionary Hope vs Free-Market Fantasies

John S. Saul

John S. Saul, born and first educated in Toronto, Canada, moved to Tanzania almost sixty years ago and, since then, has also taught in Mozambique and South Africa as well as back in Canada. Saul lays out the broad premises of the thinking that has guided his endeavours, making the core reality of economic production and exploitation central but also assessing the impact on other social realities, including class, race, gender, sexuality, nationalism, the environment, politics and the state.

ISBN-10: 1988832918 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-91-3 • June 2021
331 pages • $30 • <https://bit.ly/3gsppBp>

Transforming ourselves, Transforming the World: An open conspiracy for social change – Second Edition

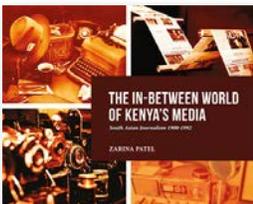

Brian K. Murphy with an introduction by David Austin

Many of us are pessimistic about our ability to change the world when confronted by destructive political and corporative forces and the destruction they wreak. Murphy reveals the dilemmas which hold people back from social engagement, and argues that the various constraints we face can be overcome. David Austin explains in his introduction why this book, first published in 1999, is perhaps more relevant to our times than ever.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-93-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-93-7 • May 2021
219 pages • $20 • <https://bit.ly/3gGXo9t>

The In-Between World of Kenya's Media: South Asian Journalism, 1900-1992

Zarina Patel

Print media in India was vital in that country's liberation, so South Asian migrants in Kenya were aware of the importance of the press in advancing the anti-colonial campaign. After independence in 1963, South Asian journalists ventured into print, photo, radio and TV. However, anti-Asian sentiments in Kenya had a destabilizing effect and by the 1980s most South Asian journalists had emigrated to safer pastures. The author was able to contact over sixty of them, including families of deceased journalists, and collect their stories to present a fascinating panorama of South Asian journalism in the 20th century.

ISBN-10: 9-966094-64-4 • ISBN-13: 978-9-966094-64-3 • March 2021
219 pages • $40 • <https://bit.ly/3arMoZC>

Aporias de Moçambique pós-colonial: Estado, Sociedade e Capital

Boaventura Monjane e Regio Conrado

Este livro escrutina o impacto significativo da independência em diferentes sectores da sociedade moçambicana. Quarenta e cinco anos após a independência, Moçambique conheceu várias transformações. O Moçambique pós-colonial é hoje, em muitos aspectos, diferente do Moçambique colonial. No entanto, existem muitas questões permanentes relativas a essas transformações e ao seu impacto na maioria do povo moçambicano.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-73-X • ISBN-13: 78-1-988832-73-9 • March 2021
311 pages • $24 • <https://bit.ly/3xgZ712>

Mau Mau From Within: The Story of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army

Donald Barnett, Karari Njama

The inside story of the struggles of the Kenya Land and Freedom Army, also known as the 'Mau Mau rebellion', is little known today. The autobiographical material written by Karari Njama (a senior leader in the Mau Mau hierarchy) and compiled by Donald L. Barnett was first published by Monthly Review Press in 1966. The book is now republished by Daraja Press with a new prologue by Karari Njama and commentaries from Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o, Mícere Gĩthae Mugo, Kamoji Wachiira and Shujaa Hon Dr Gitu wa Kahengeri, Secretary-General of the Mau Mau War Veterans Association. There is also a new biographical note on Donald Barnett, who joined the ancestors in 1975.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-59-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-59-3 • January 2021
410 pages • $33 • <https://bit.ly/3xnq515>

The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising

Shemon Salam & Arturo Castillon

A rebellion exploded in Minneapolis in response to the brutal police murder of George Floyd in late May 2020. The uprising quickly spread across the U.S. The Black proletariat led the charge, but white, Latinx, Asian, and Indigenous proletarians also joined the fight, demonstrating new possibilities for alliances.

In an effort to think through the experience of the uprising and prepare for the great struggles that are coming, The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising provides an in-depth analysis of what exactly happened during the 2020 uprising, its potentials, internal limits, and strategic implications.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-95-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-95-1 • February 2021
50 pages • $15 • <https://bit.ly/3auDz00> • Versión en español en la página 17

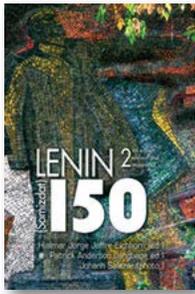

Abolitionist Agroecology, Food Sovereignty and Pandemic Prevention

Maywa Montenegro de Wit

Pandemics have their roots in the violent separation of communities from their territories, seeds, knowledge and wealth. Racism enables such theft as fundamental to capitalist expansion. Maywa Montenegro explores a series of breakdowns, from fractured supply chains to uncontrolled infection among essential food workers. An abolitionist agroecology could crack open multiple possibilities that respond to the exigencies of a pandemic planet.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-03-8 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-03-3 • April 2021
79 pages • $15 • <https://bit.ly/3gsn5ds> • Versión en español en la página 17

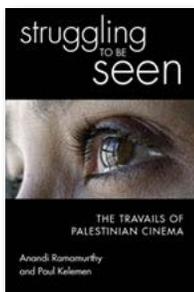

Lenin150 (Samizdat): 2nd expanded edition

Hjalmar Jorge Joffre-Eichhorn, Johann Peter Salazar, Patrick Anderson

Despite Lenin's image as an austere professional revolutionary, the flesh and blood Lenin understood that the most materialist action an individual must carry out to metabolise the struggle for communism is to breathe. To breathe new life into the long choking red star, a new oxygenic Communist politics of walking and breathing is what we must aspire to. Lenin150 (Samizdat) seeks to engage with Vladimir Ilyich Ulyanov in the year of his 150th anniversary.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-87-X • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-87-6 • January 2021
344 pages • $40 • <https://bit.ly/2QL5jaC>

Struggling to be seen: The travails of Palestinian cinema

Anandi Ramamurthy, Paul Kelemen

Palestinian filmmakers confront challenges to develop a cinema that gives expression to the national narrative. The book is based on collaborative research involving Film Lab Palestine, Sheffield Palestine Cultural Exchange and Sheffield Hallam University and explores the political, economic and cultural contexts that impact on Palestinian film production and some of the barriers encountered in profiling and screening Palestinian films.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-80-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-80-7 • December 2020
84 pages • $17.50 • <https://bit.ly/3tH9PW7>

I am a man of peace: Writings inspired by the Maynooth University Ken Saro-Wiwa Collection

Helen Fallon

This book marks the 25th anniversary of the execution of Nigerian activist and writer Ken Saro-Wiwa. The 21 essays, by international contributors, and 42 poems by new and established poets, are inspired by his ideals and activism. The volume includes contributions by people intimately connected with Saro-Wiwa including his brother Dr Owens Wiwa, his daughter Noo Saro-Wiwa, and his stalwart supporter Sister Majella McCarron, who provides two personal essays.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-70-5 • ISBN-13: 978-1-9888327-0-8 • November 2020
104 pages • $26 • <https://bit.ly/3ilNflo>

Being human after 1492

Richard Pithouse

The past does not merely haunt or shape the present via the enduring power of deep and impersonal structural forces. Across Europe, and in settler societies like Australia, Brazil and the United States, racism is an increasingly explicit and menacing presence at the centre of political and social life. We will not be able to transcend the epoch that began in 1492 without a politics that can confront and defeat this revanchism. And we will not have transcended this epoch until “things, in the most materialistic meaning of the word” are, as Frantz Fanon insists, “restored to their proper places”.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-85-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-85-2 • November 2020
50 pages • $13 • <https://bit.ly/3n9IIAK>

For the love of the struggle: Memoirs from El Salvador

Andrés (Drew) McKinley

From his home in El Salvador where he has lived over four decades, the author shares an intimate personal and political memoir that follows his remarkable journey from the comfort of a picturesque New England town to a stirring and heroic engagement with the struggle for peace and justice in El Salvador. Interwoven with this personal journey is the story of Teresa Rivas, her husband Antonio, and their five children in the war zones, all told against the backdrop of the decades-long people's struggle for economic justice, human rights and authentic democracy in El Salvador.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-81-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-81-4 • October 2020
252 pages • $25 • <https://bit.ly/3tJiHLc>

Fanon and the rationality of revolt

Nigel C Gibson

Frantz Fanon is always speaking to us, but often in ways we cannot hear. We have to work to listen to him and to understand the new contexts and meanings in relative opacity. It is this constant dialogue that helps illuminate the present and enable ongoing fidelity to Fanon's call in the conclusion of The Wretched of the Earth the necessity to work out new concepts to confront one of Fanon's greatest concerns, the betrayal of the revolutionary movement. In this pamphlet we consider how Fanon's idea of liberation is connected with "the rationality of revolt."

ISBN-10: 1-988832-77-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-77-7 • October 2020
25 pages • $9.20 • <https://bit.ly/3dGsb4i>

In Against Beyond Corona

Church Land Programme

The corona crisis reveals what is wrong and toxic — in ourselves, in relation with others, and in relation with the rest of non-human nature. But we can also look for what is good and life-affirming. The authors argue that the future must be founded on 'kindness, social solidarity and an appropriate scale of time', a future that cherishes life and the connections that transcend borders. This pamphlet is a vital contribution to much needed reflections and discussion.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-83-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-83-8 • October 2020
58 pages • $12 • <https://bit.ly/32AFJaZ>

A region in revolt: Mapping the recent uprisings in North Africa and West Asia

Jade Saab

A wave of mass protest movements has spread across North Africa and West Asia, including Sudan, Algeria, Iraq, Lebanon and Iran. The protests have much in common but each movement operates under different conditions. The specific historic, political and economic contexts have determined who the key actors are and their location across old and new divides. This book elaborates on these similarities and differences to paint a clearer picture of these movements and draw out lessons to inform future struggles.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-61-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-61-6 • September 2020
178 pages • $20 • <https://bit.ly/3aspqBo>

Dialectics of revolution : Hegel, Marxism, and its critics through a lens of race, class, gender, and colonialism

Kevin B. Anderson

This book collects four decades of writings on dialectics, a number of them published here for the first time, by Kevin B. Anderson, a well-known scholar-activist in the Marxist-Humanist tradition. The essays cover the dialectics of revolution in a variety of settings, from Hegel and the French Revolution to dialectics today and its poststructuralist and pragmatist critics. As a whole, the book offers a discussion of major themes in the dialectics of revolution that still speak to us today.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-75-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-9888327-5-3 • July 2020
247 pages • $35 • <https://bit.ly/3arHxaQ>

Class, gender, race & colonialism: The 'intersectionality' of Marx

Kevin B Anderson

It is important to see both Marx's brilliant generalisations about capitalist society and the very concrete ways in which he examined not only class, but also gender, race, and colonialism, and what today would be called the intersectionality of all of these. His underlying revolutionary humanism was the enemy of all forms of abstraction that denied the variety and multiplicity of human experience.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-63-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-63-0 • April 2020
35 pages • $10 • <https://bit.ly/co/8BiJ>

Rinky-Dink Revolution

Howard Waitzkin

Moving beyond capitalism by withholding consent, creative constructions, and creative destructions. How do we get from capitalism to post-capitalism?

It is critical to understand why capitalist-oriented industrial agriculture and its destruction of habitat can cause pandemics, why health-care systems organized around capitalist principles don't do well, and how the current economic collapse, triggered by a pandemic, opens a door for revolutionary transformation.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-53-5 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-53-1 • March 2020
72 pages • $10 • <https://bit.ly/3epugkb>

Strategic litigation and the struggle for Lesbian, Gay and Bisexual equality in Africa

Adrian Jjuuko

In the past two decades, 30 strategic cases have been filed by LGB activists in the Common Law African countries, namely in Botswana, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa, and Uganda. While most have been successful, they have not resulted in significant social change. On the contrary, there have been active backlashes against LGB persons, as well as the further criminalisation of same-sex relations and constitutional prohibitions on same-sex marriages in some jurisdictions. The author argues that activists in Common Law Africa have to design LGB strategic litigation in such a way as to fit within the actual social and political conditions in their countries if strategic litigation is to spur social change.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-55-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-55-5 • February 2020
312 pages • $30 • <https://bit.ly/3grf2O3>

Decolonization and Afro-Feminism

Sylvia Tamale

Congratulations to Sylvia Tamale, the 2022 recipient of the FTGS Book Prize for Decolonization and Afro-Feminism!

Six decades after African countries gained formal independence, the continent struggles to free itself from the deep legacies of colonialism, imperialism and patriarchy. Many activists, eager to contribute to Africa's liberation, have felt like they took the wrong path. Decolonization and Afro-feminism re-envision Pan-Africanism as a more inclusive decolonizing/decolonial movement.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-49-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-49-4 • February 2020
420 pages • $35 • <https://bit.ly/3dE2std>

Wreaths for a Wayfarer: An Anthology in Honour of Pius Adesanmi

Nduka Otioko, Uchechukwu Umezurike

Pius Adesanmi died in the doomed Ethiopian Airline flight 302 in 2019. Wreaths for a Wayfarer: An Anthology in Honour of Pius Adesanmi assembles 267 original poems written by 127 established and emerging African writers. While some celebrate Adesanmi, others reflect philosophically on existence, mortality, immortality and/or offer hope for the living.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-33-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-33-3 • February 2020
328 pages • $20 • <https://bit.ly/2QL3zhA>

Love after Babel and other poems

Chandramohan S

Winner of the Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Outstanding Book Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association

Love after Babel deals with themes such as caste, the resistance of Dalit people, Dalit literature, islamophobia and other political themes, in almost one hundred poems. The introduction is by Suraj Yengde, award-winning scholar and activist from India.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-37-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-37-1 • January 2020
110 pages • $15.30 • <https://bit.ly/3n9yNlr>

Africa Matters

Africa Matters: Cultural politics, political economies, & grammars of protest

A sampling of insightful articles from the first five issues of Nokoko, journal of the Institute of African Studies, Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada. It brings together pieces that the journal's editorial board felt were particularly perspicacious in their analysis and resonant in their crafting around the key themes of cultural politics, political economies and grammars of protest.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-31-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-31-9 • October 2019
237 pages • $29 • <https://bit.ly/3n8iKxu>

Poems for the Penniless

Issa G Shivji, Ida Hadjivayanis

These poems by Issa Shivji, lawyer, activist and Tanzanian public intellectual, give vent to personal anguish and political anger. Mostly originally written in Kiswahili, here accompanied by English translations, they are both intensely personal and political.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-17-9 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-17-3 • May 2019
216 pages • $25 • <https://bit.ly/3gue9Ve>

Migrations, mobilités et développement en Afrique

Tome 1: Mobilités, circulations et frontières

Tome 2: Stratégies familiales, diaspora et investissements

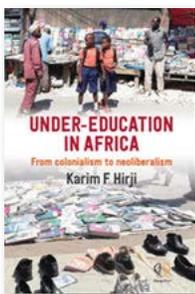

Elieth P Eyebiye & Angèle Flora Mendy

Ces livres sont un apport précieux au sujet des migrations à l'intérieur du continent africain. Celles-ci sont bien plus importantes quantitativement, mais aussi économiquement et historiquement, que les migrations de l'Afrique vers l'Europe. Elles sont beaucoup plus silencieuses et moins étudiées que celles du Sud vers le Nord.

1: ISBN-10: 1-988832-43-8 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-43-2 • October 2019
294 pages • $30 • <https://bit.ly/32ygqXd>

2: ISBN-10: 1-988832-45-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-45-6 • October 2019
304 pages • $30 • <https://bit.ly/2RTrNa5>

Book size: 7.5 x 9.25 in

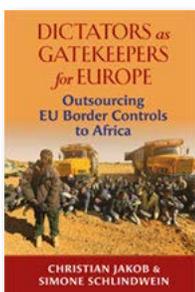

Under-Education in Africa: From Colonialism to Neoliberalism

Karim Hirji

The essays in this book cover Tanzanian education in the German colonial era, the days of Ujamaa socialism and the present neoliberal times. Themes include the social function of education, the impact of external dependency on education, practical versus academic education, democracy and violence in schools, the role of computers in education, the effect of privatization on higher education, misrepresentation of educational history, good and bad teaching styles, book reading, the teaching of statistics to doctors and student activism in education. Two essays provide a comparative view of the situation in Tanzania and the USA.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-35-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-35-7 • August 2019
316 pages • $21 • <https://bit.ly/3xeOYfi>

Dictators as Gatekeepers for Europe: Outsourcing EU border controls to Africa

Christian Jakob, Simone Schlindwein

The EU has been trying to close as many deals as it can with African states, making it harder for refugees to find protection and more dangerous for labour migrants to reach places where they can earn an income. But this is not the only effect: the more Europe tries to control migration from Africa, the harder it becomes for many Africans to move freely through their own continent, even within their own countries.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-27-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-27-2 • April 2019
248 pages • $20 • <https://bit.ly/3gg8JdL>

Jackson Rising: The Struggle for Economic Democracy and Black Self-Determination in Jackson, Mississippi

Ajamu Nangwaya and Kali Akuno

Mississippi is the poorest state in the U.S. with the highest percentage of Black people and a history of vicious racial terror. Black resistance is the backdrop and context for the drama captured in Jackson Rising: The Struggle for Economic Democracy and Black Self-Determination in Jackson, Mississippi. This seminal anthology describes the strategies pursued by this movement for Black community control and people-centered economic development.

ISBN-10: 0-995347-45-X • ISBN-13: 978-0-9953474-5-8 • October 2017
312 pages • $20.50 • <https://bit.ly/3sGQGCx>

Silence Would Be Treason: Last writings of Ken Saro-Wiwa (Expanded 2nd Edition)

Helen Fallon, Ide Corley, Ken Saro-Wiwa, Laurence Cox

Reading through the letters and poems in The Last Writings of Ken Saro-Wiwa evokes intense memories of Saro-Wiwa's struggles against an oil behemoth and a deaf autocratic government. His crusade frames one of the most tumultuous periods of Nigeria's history; his tragic story demands action to resolve the crises that first led the Ogoni people to demand that Shell clean up Ogoni lands or clear out of the territory.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-24-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-24-1 • October 2018
222 pages • $25 • <https://bit.ly/3avxLnR>

Finding a Voice: Asian Women in Britain (New and Expanded Edition)

Amrit Wilson

First published in 1978, and winning the Martin Luther King Memorial Prize for that year, Finding a Voice established a new discourse on South Asian women's lives and struggles in Britain. Through discussions, interviews and intimate one-to-one conversations with South Asian women, in Urdu, Hindi, Bengali and English, it explored family relationships, the violence of immigration policies, deeply colonial mental health services, militancy at work and also friendship and love.

This new edition includes a preface by Meena Kandasamy, some historic photographs, and a remarkable new chapter titled 'In conversation with Finding a Voice: 40 years on.'

ISBN-10: 1-988832-01-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-01-2 • October 2018
288 pages • $20 • <https://bit.ly/2QMgG2d>

Claim No Easy Victories: The Legacy of Amilcar Cabral

Firoze Manji, Bill Fletcher Jr

2013 marked the 40th anniversary of the assassination of Amilcar Cabral, revolutionary, poet, liberation philosopher, and leader of the independence movement of Guinea Bissau and Cap Verde. Cabral's influence stretched well beyond the shores of West Africa. He had a profound influence on the pan-Africanist movement and the black liberation movement in the US.

In this anthology, contemporary thinkers commemorate the anniversary of Cabral's assassination. They reflect on the legacy of this extraordinary individual and his relevance to contemporary struggles for self-determination and emancipation.

ISBN-10: 2-869785-55-0 • ISBN-13: 978-2869785557 • October 2013
518 pages • $35 • <https://bit.ly/32ybce3>

Backlist

The Travails of a Tanzanian Teacher – Karim Hirji

ISBN-10: 1-988832-09-8 · ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-09-8 · October 2018 · 312 pages · $18 · <https://bit.ly/3xgj0ze>

Cradles – Poems – Salimah Valiani

ISBN-10: 0-995347-49-2 · ISBN 978-0-9953474-9-6 · January 2018 · 152 pages · $16 · <https://bit.ly/3xgQo95>

You're Not Here – Novel – Tariq Mehmood

ISBN-10: 1-988832-07-1 · ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-07-4 · March 2018 · 239 pages · $15 · <https://bit.ly/3aMhVWn>

October 1917 Revolution: A century later – Samir Amin

ISBN-10: 1-988832-05-5 · ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-05-0 · October 2017 · 124 pages · $15 · <https://bit.ly/3ax0ljw>

Citizenship, Identity and Belonging in Kenya – Zahid Rajan & Zarina Patel (eds)

ISBN-10: 0-995347-47-6 · ISBN-13: 978-0-995347-47-2 · October 2017 · 158 pages · $15 · <https://bit.ly/2PcE34w>

The Enduring Relevance of Walter Rodney's 'How Europe Underdeveloped Africa' – Karim Hirji

ISBN-10: 0-995222-39-8 · ISBN-13: 978-0-9952223-9-7 · February 2017 · $15 · <https://bit.ly/3ej7vyh>

Oil Politics: Echoes of Ecological Wars – Nnimmo Bassey

ISBN-10: 0-995222-31-2 · ISBN-13: 978-0-995222-31-1 · October 2016 · 192 pages · $25 · <https://bit.ly/32z93yu>

Tishio La Ukombozi: Ubeberu na Mapinduzi Zanzibar – Amrit Wilson

ISBN-10: 0-995222-32-0 · ISBN-13: 978-0-995222-32-8 · September 2016 · 204 pages · $25 · <https://bit.ly/3epp71l>

Sacrificar Um Continente: A Extração Destrutiva e a Crise Climática na África – Nnimmo Bassey

ISBN-10: 1-500405-95-7 · ISBN-13: 978-1-500405-95-3 · July 2014 · 206 pages · $15 · <https://bit.ly/3dDWCYy>

Produced on behalf of Grain.org

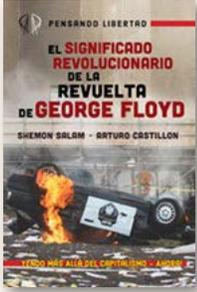

English, French and Luganda versions of

Promise, Divide, Intimidate, Coerce:
12 tactics palm oil companies use
to grab community land

<https://tinyurl.com/37kyhhnx>

Versiones en español de dos de nuestros libros

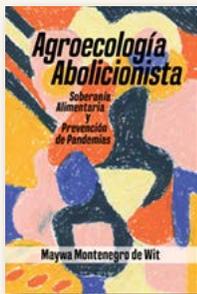

El Significado Revolucionario de la Revuelta de George Floyd

Shemon Salam y Arturo Castillon

Una rebelión explotó en Minneapolis en respuesta al asesinato policial de George Floyd, y durante la rebelión una estación de policía fue tomada y prendido fuego. Después de esto la revuelta se extendió rápidamente por todo los Estados Unidos. El Significado Revolucionario de la Revuelta de George Floyd proporciona un análisis de lo que sucedió durante los disturbios de 2020 en los Estados Unidos, sus potenciales, límites internos, e implicaciones estratégicas.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-28-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-28-6 • October 2021 • 60 pages • $15 • <https://bityl.co/8iqP>

Agroecología Abolicionista, Soberanía Alimentaria y Prevención de Pandemias

Maywa Montenegro de Wit

COVID-19 ha expuesto la naturaleza racializada de los sistemas alimentarios, pero también potencialmente otorga oportunidades para construir de nuevo. Maywa Montenegro explora una serie de averías, desde cadenas de suministro fracturadas hasta infecciones incontroladas entre trabajadores de alimentos esenciales, entre comunidades negras, marrones e indígenas atravesadas por el virus a lo largo de viejos surcos de opresión racial y de clase.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-29-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-29-3 • October 2021 • 90 pages • $15 • <https://bityl.co/8iqM>

Available only in Eastern and Southern Africa

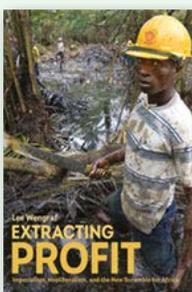

Unearthing justice : how to protect your community from the mining industry

Joan Kuyek

The mining industry continues to be at the forefront of colonial dispossession around the world. Brimming with case studies, anecdotes, resources, and illustrations, Unearthing Justice exposes the mining process and its externalized impacts on the environment, Indigenous Peoples, communities, workers, and governments.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-34-8 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-34-7 • February 2022 • 100 pages • $25 • <https://bityl.co/9MGG>

Extracting Profit

Lee Wengraf

Available only in East Africa at www.zandgraphics.com

A piercing historical explanation of poverty and inequality in African societies today and the social impact of resource-driven growth.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-19-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-19-4 • September 2021 • 350 pages • $23 • <https://bit.ly/3ekRBDF>

FORTHCOMING

Singing to Liberation: Songs of Freedom and Nights of Resistance in Indian Universities

Suddhabrata Deb Roy

Protest music occupies a central position in the organisational fabric of contemporary Indian progressive and revolutionary politics. Drawing from insights gained from over 25 interviews with cultural activists, the book analyses the deep connections between cultural and other forms of resistance.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-49-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-49-1 • Fall 2022

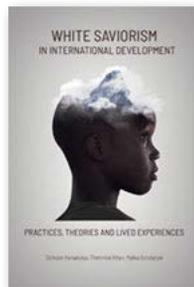

May contain traces: Episodes from a colonial present

Daniel Bendix, Chandra Danielzik, Franziska Müller, Lata Narayanaswamy, Juan Telleria, Miriam Friz Trzeciak, Aram Ziai

This collective comic project deals with postcolonial critique of global inequality in everyday life in the spaces, discourses and practices of so-called 'global development'. Our project illuminates everyday life's postcoloniality as well as the decolonising potential of everyday struggles. It does so by focusing on (settler)colonial history, but also on recent interventions, for instance by development experts. With the medium of comics, we want to tell such critical perspectives in a visualised form and by using everyday stories as examples, thus overcoming textual boundaries.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-46-1 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-46-0 • Fall 2022
<https://bityl.co/DTdP>

The White Savior Complex in International Development

Dickson Kanakulya, Maïka Sondarjee, Themrise Khan

Uniting scholars and practitioners from around the world, this book will address white saviorism as one of the perennial underbelly challenges of the global development aid industry. Overall, this book will analyze how development practices can undermine voices in the Global South and perpetuate a harsh myth of white superiority.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-18-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-20-0 • Fall 2022
200 pages • <https://bit.ly/2PcO55G>

Politica e cultura no pensamento emancipatório africano

Michael Neocosmos, Amilcar Cabral, Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba

Portuguese version of Politics and Culture in African Emancipatory Thought (see p. 5)

ISBN-10: 1-990263-62-3 • ISBN-13 978-1-990263-62-0 • Fall 2022
60 pages • $14

FORTHCOMING continued

Homestead, Homeland, Home Ato Sekyi-Otu

Ato Sekyi-Otu's thought is one of the most important and exciting in Africa today. It is no exaggeration to affirm that he is one of the two most innovative contemporary dialectical thinkers, the other being Ernest Wamba-dia-Wamba. This book bears eloquent witness to Sekyi-Otu's stature as a thinker and also to his consistent commitment to the universalization of humanity in both theory and practice. Deeply anchored in African cultures and modes of life, Sekyi-Otu has shown how ideas of human universality are ingrained in African popular sayings and proverbs and are regularly reflected in artistic creations.

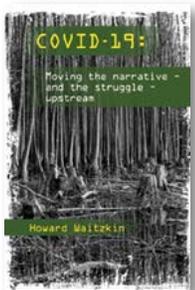

ISBN-10: 1-990263-54-2 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-54-5 • Spring 2023 • <https://bitly.co/DTcV>

Dark PR: How corporate disinformation harms our health and the environment Grant Ennis

Grant Ennis reveals exactly how multinationals go about hoodwinking and manipulating us. Corporations divert citizens' attention away from the real causes of global problems, leading them into counter-productive blind-alley "solutions."

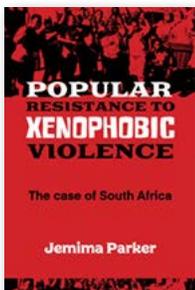

ISBN-10: 1-990263-48-8 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-48-4 • Spring 2023
250 pages • <https://bitly.co/DTa6>

COVID-19: Moving the narrative and the struggle upstream Howard Waitzkin

Howard Waitzkin is also author of the Daraja Press title Rinky-Dink Revolution.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-08-9 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-08-8 • Spring 2023
100 pages • <https://bit.ly/2QfyNxE>

Popular Resistance to Xenophobic Violence: The case of South Africa Jemima Parker

The book examines popular responses to the crisis of xenophobic violence in South Africa, arguing that xenophobia is not primarily a reaction to unfavourable social conditions, but a discourse which has arisen from an exclusionary conception of state nationalism.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-10-0 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-10-1 • Spring 2023
200 pages • <https://bit.ly/3tE1S44>

FORTHCOMING continued

Limits of the Black Radical Tradition and the Value-Form

Shemon Salam

Salam outlines the rise and fall of the Black Liberation Movement and class struggle in the 20th century. But this defeat is not permanent. Limits sees the return of the tradition in the form of riots, revolutions, and wars. Salam has been an activist since 2001 and is also co-author of the Daraja Press title The Revolutionary Meaning of the George Floyd Uprising.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-14-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-14-9 • Spring 2023
300 pages • <https://bityl.co/DSa4>

Goodbye to Anthropology: Rationale for Dissidence

Colectivo Máquina Crísica

The collective Máquina Crísica make a fundamental “critique of anthropology” that would contribute to transformative politics, that challenge the reproduction of existing anthropologies, since the latter has blocked the possibility of inscribing social research in the space of emancipatory thought.

Spring 2023

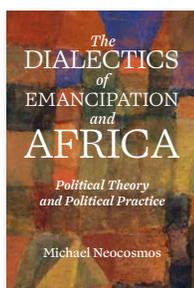

Some of Us are Brave

Thandisizwe Chimurenga

Thandisizwe Chimurenga is an award-winning, freelance journalist who has interviewed over a number of years leading women thinkers including Assata Shakur, Michelle Alexander, Barbara Ransby, Claudia Jones, Euzhan Palcy, and Carol Boyce Davies. These are transcripts from her archives.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-11-9 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-11-8 • Spring 2023
100 pages • <https://bityl.co/DSaF>

The Dialectics of Emancipation and Africa: political theory and political practice

Michael Neocosmos

Beginning from the understanding that it is imperative today to develop new concepts for the thinking of an emancipatory politics on the African continent (Fanon), this book proposes to focus on dialectical thought as the core subjective feature of all emancipatory political experiments on the African continent in particular.

ISBN-10: 1-990263-09-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-23-4 • Spring 2023
200 pages • $30

Religion, Science and the Pandemic

Karim Hirji

ISBN-10: 1-990263-22-4 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-22-4 • Spring 2023

FORTHCOMING continued

Bandung: Afro-Asian Poetry that Changed the World

Tariq Mehmood (ed)

ISBN-10: 1-990263-45-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-45-3 • Spring 2023 • 300 pages • $30

Hand on the Sun

Tariq Mehmood

Tariq Mehmood's first novel, published by Penguin Books in 1983, charted the experience of second-generation migrants to the UK. It is a raw story of pain and anger at the relentlessness of British racism, from the street to the state – a story of an unquenchable desire for justice.

This is an extended version of the original novel.

ISBN-10: 1-988832-58-6 • ISBN-13: 978-1-988832-58-6 • Spring 2023 • 150 pages • $20

Beyond the Internet: Radical Voices of Dissent

David Berry & Lawrie Phillips

ISBN-10: 1-990263-59-3 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-59-0 • Spring 2023
150 pages • $20

Beyond an Extractivist World

People's Health Movement (PHM) – Canada and Ecuador chapters

ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-61-3 • Spring 2023

Indigenous Resurgence beyond “Anthropocene” Collapse: From Earth Crisis to Decolonization

Leonardo E. Figueroa Helland

ISBN-10: 1-990263-60-7 • ISBN-13: 978-1-990263-60-6 • Spring 2023
150 pages • $23

Praise for Daraja Press

Through its republishing of historical works, Daraja Press reminds us of the long history of emancipatory thinking on our continent; but it also introduces us to new thinking, and makes connections (builds 'bridges') between the current emancipatory intellectual work of Africa and that of others engaged in emancipatory struggle throughout the globe. Reflecting on the words we read (and those we hear, through Daraja's podcasts) inspires us with hope, and gives us courage. Without Daraja, the world would be an infinitely poorer place.

— Anne Harley, University of KwaZulu Natal, South Africa

At a time when deep and complex issues are treated superficially at local and global levels, Daraja Press publishes books that help unearth the foundational basis of understanding and dealing with the complexities.

— Nnimmo Bassey, co-recipient of the 2010 Right Livelihood Award, also known as the "Alternative Nobel Prize"

The unassuming Daraja Press works diligently to produce alternative and counter narratives from a postcolonial perspective. It is positioned as one of the few "Davids" facing off the powerful "Goliaths" in the arena of academic publishing.

— Sylvia Tamale, author, Decolonization and Afro-Feminism and African Sexualities

Daraja is a crucial publisher of radical thought from and for popular struggles around the world, centring the voices of organic intellectuals from today's movements and grounded in our own activist histories.

— Laurence Cox, co-editor, activist/academic social movements journal Interface

Daraja is a critical building instrument for our revolutionary movements and connecting them throughout the world.

— Kali Akuno, co-founder, Cooperation Jackson, Mississippi

Daraja Press is a crucial node for advancing the collective struggles for the liberation of oppressed people around the world.

— Zophia Edwards, Asst Prof, Sociology, John Hopkins University, Baltimore, USA

Daraja has the unique talent for picking important but often dense academic topics and books and then transforming them into lucid and accessible reading. Additionally, their modest pricing, clean design, and efficient distribution of print is commendable.

— Bhakti Shringarpure, Associate Professor, English & WGSS, University of Connecticut, Editor-in-chief, Warscapes

Reflection, critical analysis, hope as a revolutionary act. These all describe what Daraja Press brings into the world via its pamphlets, books, podcasts, and special series such as "Organizing in the time of COVID-19."

— Maywa Montenegro de Wit, Assistant Professor, Critical Race and Ethnic Studies, Center for Justice, UC Santa Cruz

Following – and expanding upon – the paths forged by such visionary publishers as New Beacon Press and Race & Class – Daraja Press continues to elucidate, inspire, and push the boundaries of writing from Africa and the diaspora – in the richest sense of both.

— Ramsey Kanaan – Publisher, PM Press

Without fearless words, silence would roam free. Daraja voices the words tyranny can't silence.

— Tariq Mehmood, an award-winning novelist and documentary filmmaker.

An amazing achievement. Daraja Press books have rescued revolutionary thought and hope from the past three decades of neoliberal gloom and doom.

— Issa Shivji, Professor Emeritus of Public Law & First Julius Nyerere Professor of Pan-African Studies, University of Dar es Salaam, Tanzania

Daraja Press has created a truly intersectional dialogue between Marxism and critical theory, on the one hand, and, on the other, anti-imperialist thinking emanating from the Global South, especially in terms of African liberation. It is a unique and truly global platform.

— Kevin B. Anderson, Distinguished Professor of Sociology, UC-Santa Barbara

Daraja can be relied upon to offer some of the most probing analysis of the most urgent challenges of our time. Precisely and presciently, the press exemplifies one of the most coherent visions of the role of written ideas in unfinished struggles for human liberation.

— Jane Anna Gordon, author of Statelessness and Contemporary Enslavement and co-editor (with Drucilla Cornell) of Creolizing Rosa Luxemburg

Daraja Press has become one of the most innovative and exciting publishers in the world today.

— Howard Waitzkin, Distinguished Professor Emeritus, Health Sciences and Sociology, University of New Mexico

Daraja, the KiSwahili Word for “bridge” is just that, a bridge between radical angers, something we need so desperately in this world of fragmented suffering and multiple resistances. A wonderful selection of books, a breeze of stimulation for those of us who get lost so easily in our own locality or our own continent.

— John Holloway, author Hope in Hopeless Times

I want to mention that Daraja's publications have truly outstanding themes, and I am glad there is a publisher centering the kind of work you put out

— Leonardo E. Figueroa Helland, Chair and Associate Professor of Environmental Policy and Sustainability Management (EPSM), The New School, New York

From its inception, Daraja Press has been courageous, pathbreaking and unorthodox in its approach to publishing. It has sought out new titles and encouraged writers--new and not-so-new--to come forward and bring their thinking to a global audience. Daraja Press has not shied away from controversy, offering works from a wide range of viewpoints. In every case, the presentation and quality of anything offered by Daraja Press has been top quality.

— Bill Fletcher, Jr., trade unionist/writer, coeditor, Claim No Easy Victories

Daraja Press addresses head-on, creatively with critical reflection, the challenges of colonialism, capitalist exploitation, ecological disaster, racism, and sexism in the global struggles for dignity, freedom, liberation, and redemption among and from the proverbial Damned of the Earth.

— Lewis R. Gordon, Chair of Awards, The Caribbean Philosophical Association, and Distinguished Scholar, The Most Honourable PJ Patterson Centre for Africa-Caribbean Advocacy

About Daraja Press

Daraja Press publishes to reclaim the past, contest the present and invent the future.

Daraja Press is a not-for-profit publisher, based in Quebec, Canada, that seeks to reclaim the past, contest the present and invent the future. Daraja is the KiSwahili word for 'bridge'. As its name suggests, Daraja Press seeks to build bridges, especially bridges of solidarity between and amongst movements, intellectuals and those engaged in struggles for a just world.

We seek to build upon, develop and support interconnections between emancipatory struggles of the oppressed and exploited across the world. In a phrase, our aim is to nurture reflection, shelter hope and inspire audacity.

Daraja Press publishes print books, e-books, pamphlets, campaign materials, and video and audio content, including recent series of more than 100 podcasts under the theme Organising in the time of Covid-19.

We actively encourage cooperation with other publishers and have co-published with some 20 other publishers. Many of our titles are published in Kenya by Zand Graphics Ltd for distribution at local prices in East Africa.

- Love after Babel and other poems by Chandramohan S won the Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Outstanding Book Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association.
- Decolonization and Afro-Feminism by Sylvia Tamale won the 2022 FTGS Book Prize.
- Revolutionary Hope vs Free-Market Fantasies by John S Saul has been nominated for the Rik Davidson / Studies in Political Economy Book Prize in Political Economy.
- In addition, the poetry book 29 leads to love by Salimah Valiani, published by Inanna Publications, won the 2022 International Book Awards Winner for Contemporary Poetry. Salimah is the author of Cradles and Love Pandemic published by Daraja Press.
- Daraja Press's publisher Firoze Manji is the recipient of the 2021 Nicolás Cristóbal Guillén Batista Lifetime Achievement Award from the Caribbean Philosophical Association.

Daraja Press is a member of the Literary Press Group of Canada
Distributed in Canada and North America by LitDisCo: www.litdistco.ca
Distributed in Europe by: CentralBooks.com

darajapress.com